P R E F A C E .

AFTER careful consideration, it has been decided for this edition of the Annals and Register to revert, so far as the preliminary chapters are concerned, to the form of the edition of 1887. On that occasion Canon J. M. Wilson prepared the Annals, and his chapters, with his kind consent, have been incorporated in this edition, with the necessary alterations and additions to bring them up to date. Mr. W. O. Moberly has kindly revised the chapter on the Games, originally written by the late Mr. E. N. P. Moor, Mr. E. J. Barff and Mr. H. Clissold that on School Organisation and Institutions, and Mr. F. Lutton Carter that on the School Mission.

The rest of the book is based on the invaluable work of Mr. E. M. Oakeley and Mr. J. E. Pearson, and the present editor, in following in their footsteps, has marvelled at the extent and the accuracy of their information.

For this edition two thousand Old Cliftonians have been good enough to furnish details of their movements and careers, which has made it possible to secure in all between four and five thousand addresses for publication. If all Old Cliftonians realised the pleasure with which such information is received, it might be possible to make the next edition still more complete.

The editor wishes to express his heartiest gratitude to Mr. George H. Whitehead, who has read the proofs of the entire book, and has provided him with many suggestions and filled numberless gaps in his information.

INTRODUCTION.

THE new edition of the Register falls in the fiftieth year of our existence, and gives occasion for a brief estimate of the work and aims of Clifton. Ours is no cathedral or monastic school a thousand years old, no royal foundation or development of an ancient grammar school. Like Cheltenham, Marlborough and others which sprang up about the same time, Clifton is a modern school, inheriting, it is true, those traditions which are the characteristic of the older Public Schools, but also distinguished by the newer educational tendencies of the Victorian Age, a wider range of studies, and more of specialisation than the older course allowed. Half a century or so ago Public School education for all boys was mainly classical; now—side by side with Latin and Greek—Science, Higher Mathematics, Modern Languages, Art and Music have established their claim to a place in the curriculum. There is less concentration, but more opportunity for varied abilities to show themselves. There is much greater diversity of intellectual aim, but the general ideal of the Public School as a place for forming character and training faculty has remained the same.

So much we have in common with other Schools, but at the same time it is our belief that Clifton is “not a mere copy of the lines of other Schools, but is distinctly marked with a stamp and character of its own.” Fifty years are a long time in the life of an individual, but only a short time in the life of a nation, or the life of a School. And yet in this space of time Clifton has come to be "looked upon as in some sort one of the great Schools of England—one of that circle of Schools, never a very large one, which attract the general attention of educated men, because they see in them, or think they see, something of work or influence, of type or character, which is destined to give them a conspicuous share in determining the national life of the immediate future." The School was needed, and filled a gap, and its growth was favoured by time and place and circumstances. Its special character was created, as one of his successors has said, by its first and greatest Head Master. "He imposed on it his own high ideals of industry, self-restraint, modesty, public service, passionate loyalty to the School, and unselfish devotion to its interests." Upon the foundations which he laid his successors have built. Under their wise and diligent care the School has grown to its present condition, and each has left, whether in the Wilson Tower and Science block, in the Music School, or in the renovated Chapel, some permanent memorial of his reign, and under one and all the School has maintained the position and shown the characteristics which marked it from its birth. This is not the place to recount the achievements of each Head Master, or estimate their individual contributions to the common cause. They are recorded in the annals that follow. And then, as all Head Masters have admitted, Clifton owes a debt, not to be estimated, to the devotion of their colleagues, both to the masters of the earlier time, many of whom have passed away, and to many others who have succeeded them and given their life-work to the building of the School. At all Cliftonian gatherings their faces rise before our minds, and homage, spoken or unspoken, is paid to their memories by those who knew them. They have left a name, but in these few words of introduction they may, like the mediæval builders, be left nameless, in the larger thought of what they helped to build.

During these last fifty years it has been calculated that 7,394 boys have been educated at Clifton—205 of these being sons of O.C.'s. Below there is added a tabulated analysis of the careers they have chosen, and of their geographical distribution, so far as we have been able to follow them into the larger world, beyond the School walls and beyond the shores of England.

These figures tell a tale of industry and enterprise, of courage and loyalty. Their production here may serve as an indication to the army of Cliftonians scattered over the entire globe that of none of them would we willingly lose sight: rather it is our desire ever to draw closer the bands that link them to the School.

CLIFTON COLLEGE ANNALS,

CHAPTER I.

THE FOUNDATION.

THE annals of Clifton College begin with a private meeting, held on April 5th, 1860, at 7 Gloucester Row, the house of Mr. H. S. Wasbrough. The complete list of those present shall here be given, as this is the actual fons et origo of the College. The Mayor of Bristol, John Bates, Esq. (in the chair); Major Savile, Dr. Black, Dr. Budd, Messrs. J. B. Burroughs, W. Gale Coles, Edward Daniel, J. McArthur, Joshua Saunders, Joseph Leech, George Cooke, O. C. Lane, H. B. Ford, Alfred Cox, F. N. Budd, John Colthurst, W. Cross and H. S. Wasbrough.

We need not trace the various steps which had to be taken in order to form the "Clifton College Company, Limited." It will be sufficient to give the summary of these preliminary proceedings in the first Report of the Council to the shareholders, dated March, 1861.

FIRST REPORT—MARCH, 1861.

The proposal to establish a College at Clifton was first brought under public notice on May 16th, 1860, when a meeting, convened by John Bates, Esq., the then Mayor of Bristol, was held at the Clifton Subscription Rooms. At that meeting a Provisional Committee was appointed for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps for the establishment of the institution, and at the same time it was unanimously resolved that the capital necessary for carrying out the objects of the promoters should be raised under the Limited Liability Act. On the same day a prospectus was approved of, setting forth the intended formation of the Association and the general features of the proposed College.

In the month of July the prospects of the undertaking were such as to justify the Committee in considering the important question of a site, and in order that due care and deliberation should be devoted to a step so materially affecting the future welfare and success of the institution, a sub-Committee was appointed for the purpose of collecting information on the subject.

Having considered several sites, the Committee finally reported in favour of one lying between Worcester Terrace and the Zoological Gardens, consisting of nine acres, the property of Mr. Adams, and about three acres adjoining, belonging to Mr. Haynes and his Trustees.

The Provisional Committee having satisfied themselves as to the possibility of purchasing the site recommended on advantageous terms, a Council was appointed, the deed of Association prepared, and the Company duly incorporated on September 13th, 1860.

Shortly after the incorporation of the Company a contract was entered into for the purchase of Mr. Adams's land, together with the Gardener's Arms, consisting of nine acres three roods fifteen perches, and of Mr. Haynes's land, consisting of two acres three roods twenty-three perches.

Access will be obtained to the College by two roads—one leading from Durdham Down towards Worcester Terrace, and the other from Pembroke Road to the Gardener's Arms—which are now in course of construction, and both will be opened by the time the College is opened. The necessary steps for diverting the pathway now intersecting the land have been taken.

These arrangements having been completed, an invitation was issued to the architects of Bristol to send in designs for a building for the College, the Company offering, at the same time, the sum of one hundred pounds in premiums.

Many able designs were sent in, and the Council, after much time and consideration, and aided by the advice of Mr. Ferrey, of London, selected the design of Mr. Charles F. Hansom.

The present intention is to complete one wing of the building, which will be amply sufficient for the present requirements of the College.

In concluding this Report, the Council have the gratification to state that the Reverend Charles Evans, late Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, and now one of the senior Assistant Masters at Rugby, has accepted the office of Head Master. His brilliant University career and deeply religious character, together with his great experience and success as a teacher and as a master, eminently qualify Mr. Evans for this important office; and the Council confidently regard his appointment as one of the best possible guarantees for the future success of the Company.

The accompanying map shows what this part of Clifton was in 1855. The Gardener's Arms is seen at the south-west corner of the Zoological Gardens. There were no houses and no roads where Guthrie Road, College Road, Percival Road, Albert Road, Northcote Road, and the Avenue now are ; no Worcester Villas or Crescent ; and no houses in Pembroke Road. The area included in dotted lines shows the land occupied by the College.

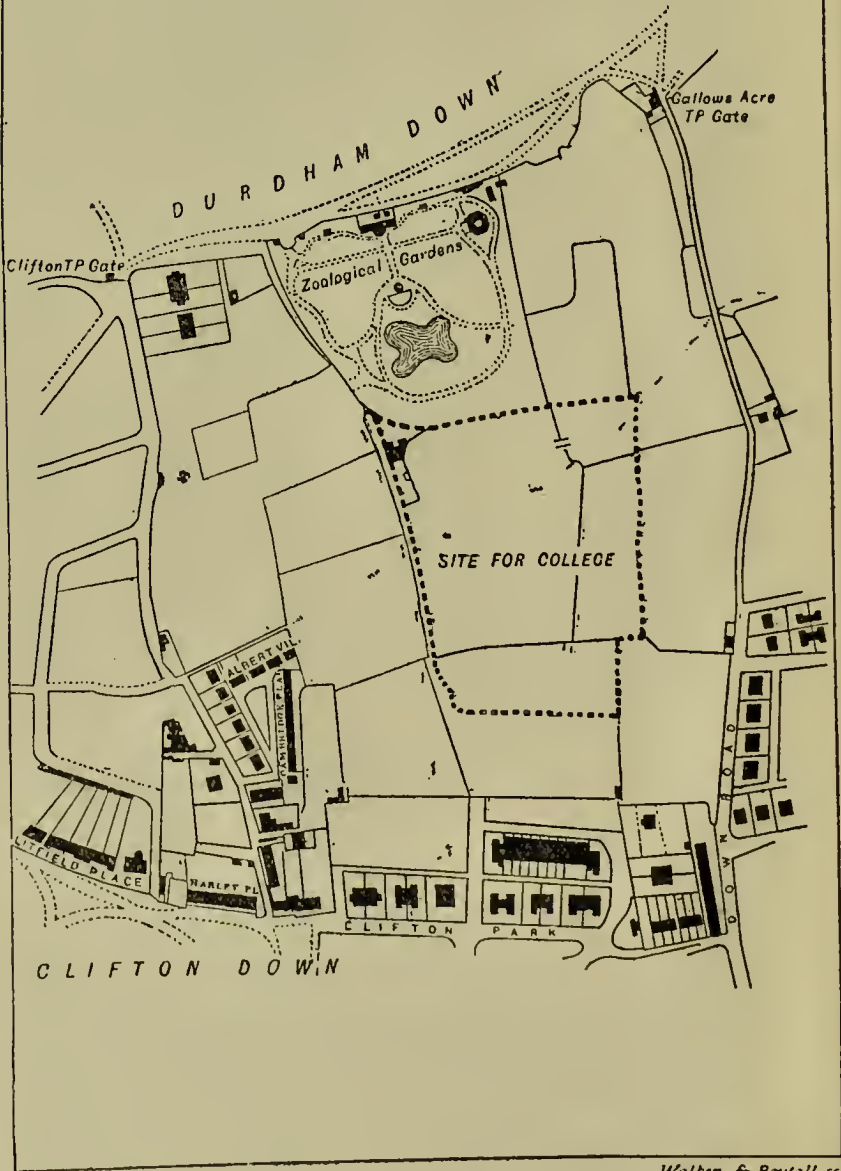

In November, 1861, a further Report was presented by the Council to the shareholders, from which the following extract will suffice :—

EXTRACT FROM REPORT—NOVEMBER, 1861.

The Council are pleased to be able to avail themselves of this opportunity of reporting that the affairs of the College have progressed satisfactorily since the meeting held in March last. The College buildings, having made considerable progress, are now becoming conspicuous objects, and the architect expresses his satisfaction with their construction in all respects. Upwards of three hundred shares have been taken, and inquiries are now being constantly made by gentlemen residing at a distance, whose position renders their connection desirable for the institution ; so that there is no reasonable doubt that the whole four hundred shares will all be issued before the opening of the College.

During this period the Rev. C. Evans, then Fifth Form Master at Rugby, was the Head Master elect of Clifton College. A Preliminary School had been opened in September, 1861, in Arlington Villas, under the Rev. T. H. Stokoe and Mr. Blackader, and thus a nucleus of a school was being formed, ready to be transferred to the new buildings as soon as they were opened. The day of opening was fixed for September 9th, 1862. But shortly before that date, Mr. Evans was elected to the Head-mastership of King Edward's Grammar School, Birmingham, where he had himself been educated under Dr. Prince Lee. His letter of resignation was read on September 4th. To this occurrence, which at the time was deemed a catastrophe, was due the appointment as Head Master of John Percival. Mr. Percival was then an Assistant Master at Rugby. He had been there two years under Dr.

Temple, the late Archbishop of Canterbury, and was recommended to the Council by him for the Head-mastership of Clifton College. Mr. Wilson, the second Head Master, was at that time one of his colleagues at Rugby.

We now give an extract from the Report of the Council to the shareholders in September, 1862.

EXTRACT FROM REPORT—SEPTEMBER, 1862.

The Council, in presenting their Report, congratulate the shareholders that they are enabled to meet them within the walls of the College, and that the portion of the building now completed surpasses the expectations they formed when they adopted the design. The Head Master's House is also ready for occupation; and the whole of the School buildings, they feel satisfied, have been well constructed, and are admirably adapted to the purposes for which they are intended.

The retirement of the Reverend Charles Evans from the Head-mastership occasioned the Council more anxiety than they can adequately express. Feeling deeply that the success of the College must depend on their obtaining the assistance, not only of a distinguished Scholar, an able Tutor and Master, but also of a gentleman who would strenuously seek to develop a high moral and religious feeling amongst the pupils, they would have had no hesitation, had it been necessary, to have deferred for a time filling up the Head Mastership, rather than sacrifice any essential requirement.

It was, however, found that the proposed system of education, the advantages of position, the School Buildings and arrangements, were so well known and approved, that several gentlemen, possessing the highest qualifications, were willing to undertake the duties of Head Master, so that the Council were enabled most promptly to fill up the vacant post.

The Rev. John Percival, M.A., Fellow of Queen's College, Oxford, who has added to a career of almost unsurpassed brilliancy at that University the experience of two years' mastership at Rugby, is now the Head Master, and the Council have obtained such satisfactory testimonials to his fitness for the position that they regard the College as eminently fortunate in securing his services.

At this time the College buildings consisted only of the School House and Big School (without the wing containing the Old Sixth Form School), and the offices and an open shed at its northern end. There was no building to the east of this, where now most of the College buildings stand.

The land purchased by the College consisted of the following lots :—

Mr. Adams's land : 9 acres, lying between Worcester Terrace and Zoological Gardens. October, 1860.

Mr. Haynes's land : about 3 acres, adjoining (north and east side of above). March, 1861.

Dr. Black's land : 2 acres 3 roods, adjoining south portion of Close. June, 1862.

An acre and a quarter of land on the west side of College Road South, on which are erected the House which has been known successively as Brown's, Moor's, Asquith's, Russell's, and the Bachelor Masters' House. June, 1867.

The condition under which the land purchased from Dr. Black is held by the College is somewhat humorously expressed in the deed of conveyance—"that no noisome or offensive trade or business (except that of a School for boys or girls) may be carried on therein."

These houses, and the whole of the College buildings, were designed by Mr. C. F. Hansom.

The College was formally opened on Tuesday, September 30th, 1862, at 11 a.m. There was an Opening Service in the present Big School. The boys, sixty in number, occupied the front benches ; the Cathedral choir assisted ; and the room was filled to overflowing by friends of the College. The sermon was preached by the Head Master, and he prefaced his sermon by the following prayer :—

O Thou Who art the Fountain of all wisdom, and the Giver of all good gifts, without Whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy, look down upon us and bless us in this our beginning. Thou knowest our necessities before we ask, and our ignorance in asking ; pardon, therefore, our blindness, if we ask amiss, and give us such things as be profitable. We kneel before Thee as Thy children, humbly beseeching Thee that Thou wilt strengthen us by Thy grace to do the work which Thou hast set before us. Grant unto all who teach in this place the spirit and the strength to labour always for Thy honour and glory, and to train up as faithful followers of Christ all whom Thy providence has committed to our charge. And to all who learn give an obedient, humble, and childlike spirit, and grant that they may grow up in the fear and love of Thee and of Thy Holy Word ; and that they may go forth and shine like lights in the world, as true servants of their Saviour Christ. And, O blessed Lord, bind us together, men and boys, by the cords of love and trust and confidence, that we may live and labour in this place with the single aim of serving Thee, and walking from henceforth in Thy holy ways. And prosper, O Lord, the work of our hands upon us, O prosper Thou our handiwork, and be with us and watch over us in our daily work and our daily prayers. Hear us, we humbly pray, in the Name and for the sake of our Advocate and Redeemer, Jesus Christ.

From the sermon we give the following extract. It will show, better than any words of ours can show, with what hopes and aims this College was opened ; and these words will form a test and standard to us and to those who shall follow us, by which to show how far we are true and worthy inheritors of this great trust :—

There is a heavy responsibility laid on every one, whether master or pupil, who enters a place like this, which has no tradition, no history, to guide us. Whatever the future of this College may be, that future will be modified for good or evil, nay, in a great measure it will be determined and acquire its character, by the conduct of those who are at this moment beginning their life in it. If you desire to belong to a place of which you may be justly proud ; if you wish to hear this College spoken of as one that bears a high name as a place where truth and uprightness and purity and all Christian virtues are held in honour ; as a place where all that is base or unworthy is hated and despised,—then remember that it rests with you to give it that name.

There is not a single boy who now hears me, down to the very youngest, but may do something to win a worthy, noble, Christian character for this his place of education, if only he will do his best. And remember, all of you, that if any one among you do evil, that evil will not only defile his own heart, but will leave its stain on this unstained spot. And forget not, that it is a different thing to be the first pupils of a School which has its name to make and its character to win,—it is a very different thing from being members of an old establishment where all this has been done for you. In this place you will be set on a hill, and every act that you do will have a double significance. It is a noble privilege to be so placed, but every privilege implies self-denial and circumspection. If we stand in a conspicuous place, we must take double heed lest we fall. Now, I wish to impress most deeply on you this day that, as members of this young society, you are placed in a most responsible position. I feel this so deeply, and it is of such unspeakable importance that you also should feel it, that I wish to impress it on all in such a way that you may remember it on your knees, night by night, when your day's work is ended. I wish to impress it so that the remembrance may go with you daily in your relations with each other, and may serve as a strong motive to a worthy life. It is not given to every one to be clever. The great majority amongst us will never be able to attain to any intellectual distinction, let them labour as they may. Some of you probably feel this, and are discouraged by it; but remember that there is a nobler gift than any superiority of intellect, which is denied to none who seek it. Men admire learning and ability and talent, and it is right that they should, for these are worthy of all admiration; but the only really great thing upon earth, the only thing by which God will judge us, is goodness, and this, thank God, is within the reach of all. Your memory may be weak and your intellect dull, and you may feel that you cannot keep pace with others round about you; but there is this one thing in which none need yield to his neighbour: all cannot become distinguished for scholarship or other acquirements, but all may be truthful and upright, all can be patient and forgiving, all can be industrious and obedient; and these are the highest gifts which can be found either in master or boys. On these things I call upon you to reflect this day; and now is the time to make the resolutions that are to guide your after-life. We, your teachers, have to resolve to dedicate ourselves earnestly and heartily to the work of educating you for your calling in life. And we make that resolution knowing something of what it involves. We shall have to do many things which you may dislike and which may be painful to us, but we shall do them because we are bound to do our duty, and that I trust both men and boys will do while united here. But while we, on our side, have to make our resolutions and to pray for grace to carry them out, you also have your part to perform in this act of self-dedication.

In the early days, when the Council met every month, and all the precedents were being formed, when the rapid growth of the College taxed their resources, and when no ordinary boldness and wisdom were required, the members of the Council had no sinecure. Many a "proprietary College" has been crippled for a generation, or has collapsed altogether, by bad finance at the outset. Our Council deserve the thanks of all Cliftonians and all Clifton for the foresight and prudence with which they acted. In one point only we will venture to wish they had been gifted with still more foresight. We wish they had bought at least twice as much land. The map which we have published is tantalising. Oh that those grass fields were ours—ours to the Pembroke Road; ours to Worcester Terrace; ours to Albert Road and the Downs!

To speak of these members of Council separately, and the services they have rendered, would be invidious. But there is one, Canon Guthrie, whose name has become inseparably associated with the College, in the Guthrie Commemoration.

It will not be out of place to reproduce the minute of the Council, dated July 20th, 1865, written on the occasion of his death.

Minute of Council, July 20th, 1865.

That this Council desire to record their deep sense of the loss which they and the College have sustained by the death of their Chairman, the Rev. Canon Guthrie, and their belief that to his earnest and able exertions, the unsparing devotion of his time and resources, and the great influence of his admirable judgment, genial nature, and elevated Christian character, a very large portion of the present success of this Institution is to be attributed.

This chapter on the Council will be scarcely complete without an appendix, giving the names of the Secretaries to the College. The work of the Secretary is one of great importance.

CHAPTER III.

THE HEAD MASTERS.

WE have already recorded the appointment and withdrawal of the Rev. C. Evans.

The appointment of the Rev. John Percival, M.A., has also been recorded.* In November, 1878, he was elected by the Fellows of Trinity College, Oxford, as their new President, and left Clifton in April, 1879. For eight years he occupied this post of President, combining with it for the latter portion of the period the position of Canon of Bristol; and in November, 1886, on the retirement of Dr. Jex Blake from Rugby, Dr. Percival accepted the Head-mastership, and entered on his work at his old school, after an absence from it of twenty-five years, in April, 1887. In 1895 he was appointed to the Bishopric of Hereford, the office which he holds at the present day.

To show with what feelings the Council parted from Dr. Percival, and appointed Mr. Wilson, we give an extract from the Council Report of 1878.

REPORT FOR 1878.

It is with feelings of very sincere regret that the Council have to announce that the connection between them and their present Head Master, the Rev. Dr. Percival, is now about to terminate. Dr. Percival, who has occupied the position of Head Master for over sixteen years, has been offered and accepted the post of President of Trinity College, Oxford, and will leave the College in April next. The Council have on many occasions recorded what has been continually present in their minds—the very deep sense of what they owe to Dr. Percival in the establishment and maintenance of the College. Dr. Percival entered upon his duties in the autumn of 1862, when sixty boys and a small staff of Masters assembled at the first opening of the School. Somewhat suddenly called to the post, the circumstances of his appointment were certainly not such as to confer any exceptional advantages upon his work ; but it soon became very evident that Dr. Percival was fitted in a very remarkable degree for the duties he had undertaken. The respect and regard of those about him, both of the Masters and the boys, were speedily obtained. The School in the short space of two years quadrupled its numbers, and continued steadily to increase ; means of more fully satisfying modern requirements in scientific and other teaching were suggested and added ; the Library, the Museum, and other valuable educational appliances were provided (some at Dr. Percival's own cost) ; and, in short, every means were taken towards obtaining for the School ample breadth and the highest excellence in education, and that not for a passing advantage, but with the full purpose of securing for those under his care the best possible training, and for the College the definite and assured position of a great Public School. It is a matter upon which the Council can offer their hearty congratulations to Dr. Percival that this satisfactory end has been so happily secured by the Royal Charter which the School has now been granted, but which, without the marked success of Dr. Percival's Head-mastership, would have been impossible of attainment. The Council are fully sensible that the great work which Dr. Percival has done at Clifton College cannot have been accomplished without a serious strain upon his mental and bodily strength, and they are therefore happy to reflect, as some slight compensation for their regret in losing his services, that he may be able to find, in the distinguished but less onerous post he has been called upon to occupy, a means of obtaining that relaxation from unusual and pressing labours which must be indispensable to the preservation of his health and usefulness. The Council have felt the very great importance of securing a successor who could satisfactorily fill the position vacated by Dr. Percival, and after devoting very close care and attention to the subject, they have elected Mr. James Maurice Wilson, late Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge, to the Head-mastership. Mr. Wilson, who passed a distinguished University career (being Senior Wrangler in 1859), has had long experience as a teacher and house master at Rugby. The testimony borne to his fitness for the position of Head Master to the College is of the very highest character, and it appears to the Council that in obtaining his services they are taking the surest means of securing the prosperity of the College and the best interests of the present and future boys.

* The University of St. Andrews conferred the degree of LL.D. upon Mr. Percival in the year 1874.

In July, 1890, Mr. Wilson accepted the Archdeaconry of Manchester and Vicarage of Rochdale, where he remained till 1905, when he became Canon of Worcester. We will give here the expression of the regret with which the Council received the news of his resignation.

REPORT FOR 1890.

Mr. Wilson was appointed Head Master in April, 1879, and during the whole of his Head-mastership, covering a period of nearly twelve years, the prosperity of the College has been unbroken. Succeeding to Dr. Percival, by whom the College had been raised to the rank of one of our great Public Schools, Mr. Wilson has ably carried forward Dr. Percival's work, and under his wise supervision the various departments of the School have been developed, the means of education have been largely added to, and every effort has been made to ensure the highest excellence in teaching and to adapt it to the special wants of the day, whilst the unity of the School as a whole has been carefully maintained. It must be a source of great satisfaction to Dr. Wilson to know that, upon severing his connection with the College, he has handed over the School to his successor in a high state of efficiency, and holding a high position in public estimation. While recognising the services of Mr. Wilson as Head Master, the Council also desire gratefully to acknowledge the great munificence he has shown to the College in many ways from time to time, and they would especially refer to the generous assistance they have received from him towards the enlargement of the Chapel, the reredos of which (a work of great beauty) is his personal gift, and towards the erection of the tower, the completion of which during the past summer was mainly due to the handsome contribution of Mr. Wilson towards the work.

Upon the resignation of Mr. Wilson, which the Council accepted with great regret, the duty was cast upon them of appointing his successor, and after much consideration they offered the Head-mastership to the Rev. M. G. Glazebrook, by whom it was accepted, and who entered upon his duties in January last. Mr. Glazebrook had a very distinguished University career at Oxford, and after leaving the University was for ten years a master at Harrow, and subsequently became High Master of Manchester Grammar School, over which he presided for two years. The Council received weighty testimony to Mr. Glazebrook's qualifications, and have every confidence that the College will be safe in his hands, and that he will be a worthy successor to Dr. Percival and Mr. Wilson.

Mr. Glazebrook held the Head-mastership till 1905, when continued ill-health compelled him to resign. He was soon afterwards appointed to a canonry of Ely. The following extract places on record the Council's sense of the value of his work.

REPORT FOR 1905.

Dr. Glazebrook entered upon the Head-mastership in January, 1891, and devoted himself unsparingly to the duties of his office for a period of more than fourteen years. His health of late, unfortunately, suffered, and acting on the advice of his doctors, he tendered his resignation in February, and retired at the end of the Summer Term. The Council accepted his resignation with sincere regret that the state of his health necessitated such a step, and in reporting the event, they here record their appreciation of all his good work as Head Master, and the grateful sense they entertain of his great generosity and his unflinching devotion to the best interests of the School. After giving their careful consideration to the choice of a successor, the Council decided to offer the Head-mastership to the Rev. A. A. David, Fellow and Dean of Queen's College, Oxford, who accepted it, and entered upon the duties of the office in September. Mr. David had a distinguished career at Oxford, taking a First Class in Classics, in Moderations, and in Final Schools; and after two years as an Assistant Master at Bradfield, was for six years an Assistant master at Rugby, under Dr. Percival and Dr. James. On the invitation of his College, he returned to Oxford from Rugby in January, 1899, to take up the duties of Fellow and Tutor, so that he comes to his new office with an unusually varied and successful experience, and the Council look forward with much confidence to the continued prosperity of the School in his hands.

One more change remains to be chronicled. At the end of 1909 Mr. David was elected to the Head-mastership of Rugby, and he accepted the post, thus maintaining the close connection which has always united in sympathy the younger with the older school. Three Head Masters of Clifton have been Assistant Masters at Rugby, and two of the three have returned to Rugby as Head Masters.

REPORT FOR 1909.

The Council with much regret have to report that the year has been marked by the loss of Mr. David, who in November last resigned the Head-mastership of Clifton on his appointment to the Head-mastership of Rugby. Mr. David entered upon his duties at Clifton in September, 1905, so that he held the office for a period of only a little more than four years, but he has during that period rendered distinguished service to the School.

The numbers of the School, Upper, Junior, and Preparatory, have increased, and the efficiency of every department of the College has been maintained or developed to meet the educational calls of the time. Mr. David, in ways too numerous to record here, has shown himself eager to advance the interests of the School, and his premature retirement from the Head-mastership cannot but be looked upon as a great loss by masters, parents, boys and Old Cliftonians, as well as by the Council.

The Council have appointed as his successor Mr. John Edward King, Head Master of Bedford Grammar School. Mr. King was himself educated at Clifton, and proceeded to Oxford as Scholar of Lincoln College, of which he afterwards became a Fellow and Tutor. He was for twelve years High Master of Manchester Grammar School, which he left in 1903 to become Head Master of Bedford. The Council feel that Mr. King's qualifications as a distinguished scholar and an experienced and successful Head Master, and the knowledge he possesses as an Old Cliftonian of the spirit and traditions of the School, specially fit him for the Head-mastership of Clifton, and they have full confidence that under him the position and reputation of the School will be fully maintained.

The list, then, of Head Masters is as follows :—

Rev. C. Evans (Head Master elect), January, 1861—September, 1862.

Rev. J. Percival, September 4th, 1862—April, 1879.

Rev. J. M. Wilson, April, 1879—December, 1890.

Rev. M. G. Glazebrook, January, 1891—July, 1905.

Rev. A. A. David, September, 1905—December, 1909.

† J. E. King, January, 1910—

Portraits of the past Head Masters now hang in the Council Room. That of the Bishop of Hereford is by Mr. Hugh de T. Glazebrook, and was presented by his brother, Canon M. G. Glazebrook. That of Canon Wilson is by Sir W. B. Richmond, and was presented by the Masters, as was the portrait of Canon Glazebrook, the work of Mr. William Strang. Dr. David's portrait is painted by Mr. Hugh Riviere, and was presented by himself. A second portrait of Dr. Percival, at the time when he left Rugby to become Bishop of Hereford, hangs in the Library. This portrait is a replica of the one painted by Sir Hubert Herkomer for Rugby, and is largely the work of that artist. It was presented to the School by a few Old Cliftonians through J. A. Neale (O.C.).

CHAPTER VI.

THE ROYAL CHARTER.

THE most important event that has taken place in the history of the College is unquestionably the granting to the College of a Royal Charter. The success attained by the College made it apparent to the Council that, if it was to maintain its position as a Public School, and be secure against its revenues being used as a source of proprietary profit, it was pressingly necessary that some great change should take place in its constitution. With this view they were unanimously of opinion that the constitution best suited to obtain for it public respect, and to allow of its development, would be a Royal Charter of Incorporation. The overtures that had taken place with this object a few years previously had been unsuccessful, through the unwillingness of the then Government to grant any new Charters, but the overtures now made were more favourably received, and the Council were encouraged to hope that, if the shareholders would be willing to concur with their view, and to sell or surrender such proprietary rights as they possessed for the permanent benefit of the College, their prayer for the Charter would receive most favourable consideration. A scheme was accordingly drafted, by which it was proposed that the following should be the main lines of the new Constitution :—

- (1) A new College to consist of Life Governors and Donors, on a plan similar to that which has proved so eminently successful at Marlborough.
- (2) A payment of £50 to be the qualification of the Life Governors.
- (3) The Life Governors to elect the governing body, and to enjoy during life the privilege (not transferable) of always keeping one boy as nominee in the College, in respect of each £50 subscribed.
- (4) Donors of £15 or £20, as may be determined, to have the right of nominating one boy for each Donation.
- (5) The Council to have power to admit boys at an extra fee of £5 per annum in lieu of a Donation.

Very great care was taken in the preparation of the draft embodying the above. The insertion of a Conscience Clause was also decided upon. Beyond the above provisions, the constitution of the College as laid down in its Articles of Association needed little change, and a scheme for a Charter founded upon them and the above-named provisions was carefully drawn. At length the draft of the proposed Charter was approved by the Council at a meeting held on November 17th, 1876, and placed in the hands of counsel for formal arrangement, and on the 28th of the same month the draft of a petition for the Charter was adopted. On December 18th a special General Meeting of the Shareholders of the old Company was held, when it was unanimously resolved that the Company should be dissolved and wound up voluntarily, and its property placed in the hands of a liquidator, who was authorised to transfer its properties and rights to the Company proposed to be constituted and incorporated by Royal Charter, the petition for which had been presented. The necessary confirmation to these resolutions was given at a second meeting held on January 5th, 1877, and the preliminaries for the change thereby completed.

On March 13th information was received that the Charter had gone to the Home Office for completion, and that the warrant to affix the Great Seal had been signed by Her Majesty Queen Victoria. The Royal Charter of Incorporation, bearing date March 16th, 1877, was shortly after received.

After the annual distribution of prizes on the morning of July 24th, 1877, at which the President of the College, the Earl of Ducie, took the Chair, a luncheon, given by the Council to commemorate the granting of the Charter, was held in the Gymnasium.

The public spirit of the shareholders, which made it possible for this great change in the status of the School to be effected, and the importance of the change, is commented on in the Report of the Council read to the Governors on March 16th, 1878.

REPORT FOR 1877.

The Council of the College have to lay before the Governors their Report for the year, and it has seemed to them specially appropriate to do so on this the anniversary of the date on which the Royal Charter of Incorporation was granted to the College, viz.

March 16th, 1877. The circumstances relating to that event have been by the natural course of business, so prominently brought to the notice of the Governors, that it would appear, perhaps, unnecessary to enlarge further upon them. The Council would, therefore, only desire to record in this their first report under the altered conditions how greatly the College has been indebted to the forbearance and public spirit of the original Governors (lately shareholders in the College) for the surrender of their pecuniary interests, and the cordial and generous support which they have given to the Council in their efforts to obtain the Charter, without which such a fundamental change, however desirable, would have been impracticable. The difficulties in the way of effecting the desired object were, as is known, very great, and seemed at one time almost insurmountable; but as far as the action of the late proprietors of the College could go, the work of the Council has always been made most simple and pleasant. The Council have therefore, at length, the satisfaction of congratulating the Governors that the College which their public spirit projected in 1860 has been, by their sustained efforts, in the short space of seventeen years, placed in a satisfactory financial position, cleared of all sign or mark of a limited commercial enterprise, and has become indeed one of the great chartered Public Schools of the country.

At this point it is appropriate to add a few words in explanation of the College Arms. Until the year 1895 a Coat of Arms had been used by the College which was open to criticism on several grounds. For one thing the old Coat had included the Arms of the See of Bristol, and also the Arms of the family of Clifton, to neither of which had the College the smallest right. Further, the expert in heraldry could detect in the old Coat some of the worst technical faults that could be perpetrated. And it seemed most undesirable that an institution to which a Royal Charter had been granted as has just been related, should use a Coat of Arms which had not been authorised by the College of Heralds, the only body entitled to give the right of bearing Arms.

The first step was taken by the masters, who subscribed the necessary sum. Then a formal application was made through the President of the College to the Earl Marshal of England, and in due course the grant was received.

The blazon, or description in words of the new Coat shall now be given, together with a short explanation.

Argent, a Chevron between two Trefoils Slipped in chief in base a Garb azure. On a Chief Gules a Crown Or between two Books of the first (Argent) garnished and clasped of the last (Or).

The motto is—" Spiritus intus alit."

The Coat is modelled on the Royal Coat granted to Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1546. Its meaning is as follows:—

A Red Chief is a Royal Chief, and indicates the Privilege which Clifton College enjoys of a Royal Charter.

The Books represent Sacred and Profane Literature, and they are closed because at school boys learn to open their books.

The Crown, or Ducal Coronet, the same thing in the early days of Heraldry, is taken from the Coat of the See of Bristol, and is, as well, another indication of the Royal Charter.

The Chevron is a Domestic Badge, and is generally given to Churchmen and those who follow peaceful pursuits, not to Warriors.

The Garb (or Wheat Sheaf) is taken from the Coat of Guthrie, and is intended to perpetuate the memory of Canon and Mrs. Guthrie, the Founders of the Chapel.

The Trefoil is from the old Coat, and is intended, as it was originally, to be the Badge of the School; in Heraldry it is a sign of unity and perpetuity.

The illustration shows how handsome the new Coat is. Very soon after it was granted, an Old Cliftonian presented to the School, through the O.C. Society, a flag on which the Arms are shown, and on all occasions of festival this now flies from the staff on the summit of the Wilson Tower.

The following notes on the "Virtues of the School Motto," composed by the late Mr. Sidney T. Irwin, are a fitting conclusion to this chapter.

(1) "Spiritus Intus Alit" is a Virgilian motto—words of a writer as universal and as rich in association as any the world possesses.

(2) It is freighted with all the associations of the word "Spirit" in all languages: as well as with all those associations of a home of learning which gather round the words "Alma Mater." "Intus," too, may mark our indifference to the things "that pay," as "Spiritus" marks it to the "letter that killeth."

(3) It is part of one famous context, and suggests another equally famous: "The Spirit more deeply interfused" (in Wordsworth's Tintern Abbey).

(4) The Spirit of (i.e. confessed by) a place of learning will always put the things of the mind first, even if there are other interests to attend to which reduce the amount of learning actually acquired.

Also such a motto may win a match for an inferior team, especially on our own ground, when there is a "something deeply interfused," and the "genius loci" travelling down our muscles.

(5) "Alit" may refer to any life; but good life ($\epsilon\tilde{\nu} \zeta\eta\nu$, as Plato calls it) is implied in the addition of "Spiritus"—conscious life as "intus" insists.

(6) These three words may animate despondent moods and cheer less prosperous times, since they stand for Galileo's famous, "But it moves."

CHAPTER VII.

THE COLLEGE CHAPEL.

THE history of the Chapel must be given in some detail. In the early days of the College the gallery of Big School was used as the Chapel. Then part of Big School itself was so used ; and it must have been with great joy that the School received the intelligence that Mrs. Guthrie, the widow of the late Chairman of the College Council, proposed to build a Chapel in memory of Canon Guthrie.

The following extract from the Council Report for September, 1866, will be interesting :—

Shortly after the annual meeting of 1865, at which mention was made of the death of their Chairman, the Rev. Canon Guthrie, the Council received a communication from his widow, the late Mrs. Guthrie, requesting them to set apart a site to enable her to erect a Chapel for the College, in memory of her husband. To this munificent proposition the Council at once gave grateful assent, and heartily offered every facility to enable Mrs. Guthrie to carry out her liberal intention in the way most suited to her wishes. The site selected is about fifty yards east of the present College building. The first stone was laid in the month of December last [the 19th] by Mrs. Guthrie, and a beautiful building is in course of erection, and is now rapidly approaching completion.

The Council deeply deplore that Mrs. Guthrie has not lived to see the accomplishment of her purpose.

The Council, on receiving the intimation of Mrs. Guthrie's intention to build a Chapel, decided upon erecting a tower at the west end of the Chapel as a memorial of this institution to the late Canon Guthrie.

In the following year, on June 15th, 1867, the Chapel was formally opened and licensed by the Lord Bishop of the diocese. The sermon was preached by the Rev. F. Temple, D.D., Head Master of Rugby School, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury. He took for his text Mark iv. 26, 27. One extract from this sermon shall be given.

Week by week this Chapel and its services is meant to preach to you, and assuredly will preach to you, its silent sermon—will teach you, almost without your knowing it, with its unspoken exhortation, will secretly remind you of the Gospel of our Master and Redeemer, and of His ever-repeated call to walk with your eyes fixed on His face. Years hence, when many of you are old men, the secret power of its influence will still be working on your character. Years hence many of you will find that the College Chapel holds the central place in your memories of school life. You will remember with affection and with lingering, clinging pleasure, the warmth of youth, and the pleasant companions, and the joyous games, and the triumphs and disappointments, and the progress through the School, and the recurrence of the regular lessons; but you will find that, however you may have lived—perhaps it may be all unworthily of such a blessing—the College Chapel and the Sunday services, and perhaps particular sermons that struck you and made a great difference to you, and perhaps conversations with intimate friends about them, and many other great matters and small matters connected with the Chapel, will stand out in the memory, and by their hold on your feelings will prove how many lessons they taught you—lessons, it may be, sinfully forgotten, but taught for all that, and making you responsible for your obedience or disobedience to their spirit. The Word of God is as the seed. But the regular services, such as you will find in this Chapel, will be like the fixed return of the living warmth, of the quickening light, to the growing plant. You will not be set free from all need of exertion. Far otherwise. . . . You will have to do your part. But, meanwhile, the fixed order of your religious life will do its appointed part, as the rain and the heat bring the plant out of the earth, and, without your knowing it, while you rise night and day, the seed shall spring up and find its place in your soul, and you will most certainly be a different man from what you would have been if there had been no such building here, no such services, no such regularity of religious observance.

The following is a list of the first gifts made to the College Chapel :—

Tower, built by the College in memory of Canon Guthrie, to be called the Guthrie Memorial Tower, and clock given by friends and neighbours.

Rose window, presented by President, Vice-Presidents, and Council.

Organ, given by Dr. Percival.

Communion plate, given by the Junior School in memory of J. R. Coles.

Cloth for Communion Table, given by Mr. H. M. Clarke.
 Oak lectern, given by Dr. Black.
 Alms-bowl, given by Dr. E. L. Fox.
 Communion Table, given by a lady.
 Pulpit, given by the Masters.
 Chancel chairs and stools, given by Dr. and Mrs. Goodeve.
 Bible, given by Mr. John Hare.
 Prayer Books, given by Mr. Luckman and Mr. Trimnell.

The Chapel so built consisted of a chancel, nave and antechapel, the nave being long and narrow in shape, of the same width throughout its length as the west end of the existing nave. The north and south sides were identical, with unadorned walls in which the windows were set. The organ-chamber was then on the north side of the chancel, approached by a winding staircase. The choir sat in the chancel. Gradually the Chapel received gifts of windows, all of which, as well as the monumental brasses, will be presently noticed. But, as years went on, it became plain that the Chapel needed enlargement. In May, 1881, the Head Master, Mr. Wilson, submitted to the Council designs for a north aisle, prepared by Mr. Hansom, and undertook to invite subscriptions from the parents of boys, to supplement a grant of £900 from the College Building Fund, and to be personally responsible for the whole cost.

The work was begun at once, and the enlarged Chapel was reopened after Easter, 1882. In the interval the School met for divine service in Emmanuel Church, by the kind permission of the Rev. T. G. Luekoek and his churchwardens.

A detailed architectural description may be read in The Cliftonian of July, 1882. Here it may be said that the original nave was divided into seven bays, and of these the five eastern-most were extended to the north by a new aisle, which measured $61\frac{1}{2}$ feet by $11\frac{1}{2}$. Five arches sprang from the old walls and rested on four red granite pillars, and led from the nave to the new aisle. In the centre of the new north wall was placed the organ-chamber. The windows in the two bays on either side of the organ showed identically the same tracery as the old windows of the nave, as did the two windows at the east and west ends of the aisle. All these windows were filled by Lavars and Westlake, of London, with grisaille glass, copied from specimens in York and Exeter. A new doorway to be used by the Junior School was made in the west wall of the aisle. This doorway was made of red Mansfield stone, and an arcade of similar stone ran under the windows round the sides of the aisle. The arcade was divided into panels, intended to contain brasses in memory of members of the School who have died and left a name behind them. The roof of the nave at that time was of white plaster. A new roof of pitchpine was erected during the years 1882 and 1883, four of the bays being given by the Head Master and Assistant Masters, and three by House subscriptions in the School.

The total cost of the alterations and additions to the Chapel, including the organ, heating apparatus and windows, was £3,559. To meet this amount a subscription was set on foot by the Head Master among the parents of boys, and the sum raised was £1,700. The balance was secured partly by special gifts from the Assistant Masters and the School, partly by the proceeds of two concerts given by the late Dr. Joseph Joachim.

Such, then, was the Chapel in which for nearly thirty years successive generations of Cliftonians worshipped: this was the Chapel thronged with the "noble ghosts" of which Henry Newbolt sang. From time to time it was beautified by gifts from friends of the School, or as the result of collections made in Chapel on Commemoration days. In 1884, 1885 and 1886 the reseating of the north side of the nave, and the stalls at the west end, were the gift chiefly of the School. In 1885 and 1886 the Head Master put up the present roof of oak to the chancel and apse, replacing the old plaster roof, and also removed the white Bath stone shafts in the apse, and substituted shafts of red Kilkenny marble and serpentine. In 1886, also, Mr. Tait gave the Communion rails. In 1887 Mr. Watson presented the arcading and the oak benches on the north side of the chancel; and the School subscriptions provided the marble shafts and carved string course on the north side of the chancel, the completion of the tiling of the chancel, and the gas standards within the rails. In 1890 Mr. Tait and the Rev. H. J. Wiseman gave the mosaic pavement in the apse and a new Communion Table, and in the same year was erected the reredos, a copy in mosaic of Holman Hunt's picture of Christ in the Temple, expressly designed to be thus reproduced: this was the gift of the Head Master in memory of his son, Maurice Temple Wilson. "It is believed that no picture of equal delicacy and detail has ever been attempted in mosaic." The work was executed by Messrs. Powell, of Whitefriars. A full description is given in The Cliftonian of July, 1890. At the base of the mosaic behind the Communion Table an inscription is placed, which may here be reproduced :—

Vobis, Pueri,
 Qui in hoc Sacello Deum colitis
 Hanc Tabellam
 Quo magis corde teneatis
 JESUM CHRISTUM
 Dominum nostrum atque exemplar
 Inter Doctores pie verecunde diligenter
 Rebus divinis incumbentem
 In memoriam filioli dilectissimi
 D.D.
 Jacobus Maurice Wilson
 M.DCCCXC.

Between the years 1891 and 1894 Mrs. Glazebrook presented to the Chapel some beautiful gifts, in several cases worked by herself. These were a velvet cloth for the altar, embroidered altar panels, embroidered offertory bags, two fair linen cloths and a carved cedar box to contain them. At the same time Mrs. H. C. Watson gave a fair linen cloth, the lace ends of which were the work of her own hands.

In 1899 some friends of the late Mrs. Percival presented the lectern. It is a copy of one which for centuries lay buried in a pond at Newstead Abbey. The inscription runs as follows :—

D.O.M.
 In memoriam Louisae Percival
 Scholae Cliftonensis almae fautricis
 Aereum hoc monumentum d.d.
 Amicarum pietas.

In 1902 two large Prayer Books were presented, one of which is used by the Reader in Chapel. It bears the following inscription :—

This Prayer Book was presented to Clifton College Chapel by Mrs. Lewis, of the Rookery, Marlow, as a memorial of her brother William Glanmor Williams, who fell fighting at Bothaville in South Africa, November 6th, 1900.

It was used for the first time at the Thanksgiving Service for Peace, on Sunday, June 8th, 1902.

At the Head Master's desk is another finely-printed and bound King Edward VII Prayer Book, with the inscription :—

Presented to Clifton College Chapel
 In memory of T. E. Brown
 By Ernest J. Enthoven (O.C.).

In 1907 the Rev. R. D. Budworth gave a credence table in oak and walnut wood, which was first used on Easter Day of that year. And in the same year a chalice and paten were presented in memory of E. B. S. Sheplherd (O.C.), late of the Public Works Department of India. The chalice is a copy of the well-known mediæval Nettlecombe cup, and is studded with diamonds. It bears the following inscription :—

A Thank Offering,
 Remember Ernest Bennett Sinclair Shepherd.
 Born 31st December, 1871,
 Died at Simla, 22nd October, 1903.

In 1909 the Council finally decided to proceed with a scheme, which had been under consideration for some time, for completing the enlargement of the Chapel begun in 1881. Three alternatives presented themselves, to add a south aisle corresponding to the new north aisle, to extend the existing building westwards, or to enter upon a more heroic course and alter entirely the lines of the old Chapel, in the words of the Bishop of Hereford, "to build a fine central lantern tower with suitable transepts—a tower that would have an uplifting effect, and give the Chapel a nobler character."

The advice was sought of Sir Charles Nicholson, F.R.I.B.A., and he reported strongly against the first alternative, on the ground that the Chapel could never in this way be made worthy of the School, since it was already too low for its width. Considerations of space seemed to forbid any encroachment on the Quadrangle, such as that involved in the second alternative. Finally "the Council, while fully recognising their duty of preserving as much as possible of the present Chapel for the sake of the associations which have gathered round it during the last forty years, decided unanimously that they ought not to lose the present opportunity of making the best provision for similar associations for present and future Cliftonians."

They therefore adopted a design prepared by Sir C. Nicholson. This involved the entire removal of the existing building for a distance of fifty-six feet westwards of the chancel arch, and the rebuilding of it with considerable extensions to the north and south, making the extreme width 79 feet. Work was begun in August, 1909, and the first service in the reconstructed Chapel was held in November, 1910, though without the organ. The Vicar of Emmanuel, the Rev. T. Gurney, kindly allowed the School to use that church during the period of rebuilding. The organ was not completed till May, 1911, when a service of dedication was held by the Bishop of Bristol. This was followed by an organ recital by Dr. W. G. Alcock, of H.M. Chapels Royal, who stated that it was one of the finest instruments in the country.

Sir C. Nicholson sent for publication in The Cliftonian, in February, 1911, a full account of his work and aims. Here it may be stated that the lantern tower which crowns the new central portion is of wood sheathed in copper, and is a copy to some extent of the central octagon of Ely Cathedral, and measures 82 feet from the floor to the top of the battlements. Round the base of it are carved and painted figures representing John Percival, Dr. Arnold, William of Wykeham, King Alfred, King Henry VI and Dean Colet. Two small aisles were added to the chancel, helping to make the east end visible from all parts of the Chapel, and thither were removed the red granite pillars of the old north aisle. Here seats are provided for ladies and visitors. The gallery which they formerly occupied is now filled by the splendid new organ, the gift of Mr. H. H. Wills (O.C.) in memory of his brother, Maitland Wills, who was killed by a fall at the Aber Waterfall at Bangor in April, 1885. The organ consists of four full manuals and pedal, and includes a good many pipes from the old organ. The blowing is by an electric motor placed outside the Chapel. It was built by Messrs. Harrison, of Durham. The case of oak, also the gift of Mr. Wills, was designed by Sir C. Nicholson, who also has drawn up a complete scheme for the decoration of the interior of the Chapel both by means of windows and by mural paintings, for which spaces are left on the walls.

The cost of the new building was estimated to amount to about £9,000, towards which the Bishop of Hereford generously contributed £500. The cost of the organ with the case was £2,500.

The tracery of the old windows is used in the new windows, which now form a kind of clerestory. A complete list of those of them, which have been given as memorials or otherwise, as they are now placed must here be given, beginning at the west end and passing round the Chapel from the north side to the south.

The rose window is now only visible from the outside owing to the organ. It is the gift of the Council and represents our Lord in glory surrounded by the apostles. The window next the gallery on the north side is by Lavars and Westlake. The coat of arms and motto are those of Dr. Percival. The western light is a reproduction of Murillo's John the Baptist, and was given by Mr. Wilson, then Head Master. The eastern light is a companion representation of our Lord, and was given by a few personal friends of Mr. Wilson. The inscriptions are respectively :—

BRADDAN BROWN, NAT. 1869, OB. 1876 ;

MAURICE TEMPLE WILSON, NAT. 1876, OB. 1886 ;

with the legend connecting the two lights—

CONDISCIPULORUM COLLEGARUM FILIOLI DESIDERIA.

The first two windows on the north side facing east and south contain the original grisaille glass. The panels in the next two windows are the gift of Mr. C. W. A. Tait, "in memoriam matris." The first of the two has in its western light representations of St. Augustine and St. Bede, in its eastern light representations of St. Hugh and St. Boniface. The second window contains the four Evangelists. The panels in the next window are in memory of G. S. Swinton, who fell in the Soudan, and of E. Rickenbach, who died at the College within a week after his confirmation, in December, 1884. The panels are the four Latin fathers—Jerome, Ambrose, Augustine and Gregory.

The next window above the brasses commemorating those who fell in the South African War is in memory of R. H. C. Coë, whose name is on one of the brasses. In the left-hand light is depicted St. George, and in the other St. Alban, the first English martyr. In the tracery openings are three angels holding scrolls, on which are the words :—

Esto fidelis usque ad mortem, et dabo tibi coronam vitæ.

At the foot of the window is a scroll bearing the words :—

To the glory of God and in loving memory of R. H. C. Coë, Lieutenant, "The King's Own" Royal Lancaster Regt., and of all his comrades who fell in South Africa, 1899-1902. This window is erected by his mother.

This window was unveiled in February, 1912, and is the work of Mr. G. I. Hunt.

The window at the east end of the north aisle facing west is in memory of Sholto James Douglas.

Of the small double windows on the lower level only the eastern pair of lights is filled. These represent scenes from the "Te Deum," and bear the inscription :—

In piam memoriam Roberti Herberti Johnston, Cliftonensium Scotorum Secretarii, MCMXI.

They were erected in 1911, the gift of the Scottish O.C. Club.

The first window in the apse is in memory of Mr. C. H. Cay, at one time the Mathematical Master of the College, and much loved there. It bears no inscription. The subject is Christ as pupil and Christ as master.

The three central windows of the apse are Guthrie windows, and have the following inscriptions :—

M. S. OPTIMI PATRONI JOHANNIS GUTHRIE
POSUERUNT QUI HIC AD HUMANITATEM INFORMATI ERANT
GRATIS ANIMIS NOMEN EIUS ET EXEMPLAR SIBI VINDICANTES
A. S. 1867.

QUÆ HANC ÆDEM STRUENDAM CURAVIT PIETATIS MONUMENTO
DEDICAVERUNT HUIUSCE SCHOLÆ DISCIPULI TANQUAM
MATREM SIBI ABREPTAM DESIDERANTES, A. S. 1867.

The subjects of the central window are the Resurrection and the Ascension ; those of the window on the north side of it, the Agony in the Garden, and the last Supper ; and those of the window on the south side of it, Christ before Pilate, and Christ bearing the Cross.

Continuing the apse windows towards the south, we come to the window erected by Evelyn Abbott to the memory of his father. The inscription below is as follows :—

EVELYN ABBOTT,
OBITU MORTEM OCT. 8. 1871 ;
ÆTAT. 59.
FILIUS MAGISTRIS HUIUS COLLEGH
QUONDAM ADSCRIPTUS PATREM OPTIMUM DESIDERAT.

The subjects of the window are Mary Magdalene and Gethsemane.

The first window on the south side facing west is the gift of F. M. Bartholomew, intended to symbolise the early teaching in the Chapel pulpit. The teachable spirit is represented by Samuel and the text, " Speak, Lord, for Thy servant heareth ; " the spirit of aspiration by St. John, with the text, " We shall see Him as He is." Above are three angels bearing scrolls, with the words ἀκούετε, τὰ ἄνω φρονεῖτε, ἀνδρίζεσθε. It was given in May, 1887, and underneath it is fixed on the wall the following inscription :—

In honorem Dei et in ejus memoriam qui in hac aede audientes audire aspirare viriliter contendere primus docuit hanc fenestram ponendam curavit F.M.B.

The next window is the gift of R. E. Bush, O.C., and represents St. Paul at the feet of Gamaliel and in the house of Ananias. The next represents the Apostles St. Peter and St. Andrew. It was given by Mr. W. Evill, in 1869, on behalf of two sons, W. E. and H. M. Evill, in memory of their school days spent here. The next window contains some grisaille glass removed from the north side, and then there is a window representing the Apostles James and John, in memory of Arthur Edward Peile, who died in India.

The window at the west end of the south side, facing east, bears the inscription :—

To the Glory of God and in memory of
JAMES ROBERT,
The beloved son of William Gale and Mary Elizabeth Coles,
Who died XI August, MDCCCLXVI.,
Aged XII. years.

The subjects are the Baptism and Christ blessing little children.

Underneath this window, on the lower tier, are two others, the one facing north a memorial to F. M. Bartholomew, the other facing east the gift of C. W. Boyle, whose name appears on one of the tablets commemorating those who fell in the South African War. The Bartholomew window represents St. John and St. Stephen, and on a scroll are the words :—

Peace on earth, Goodwill toward men.

Below it is a brass bearing the inscription :—

Ad majorem Dei gloriam et in piam memoriam Francisci M. Bartholomew, qui postquam per annos xxiv hanc Scholam opera doctrina vita pietate adjuvarat, apud Indos Orientales obiit A.D. MDCCCXIII. Beati Mundi Corde.

The Boyle window has no inscription. It contains figures of Christ and the Centurion in one light, and of Christ and St. Peter in the other.

Next to the organ gallery, facing north, is a window representing the Apostles Philip and Bartholomew, in memory of George Acemilius and James Webster Bird, members of the Indian Civil Service, who died in India. Both of these were given by Old Cliftonians and friends.

The window at the south side of the gallery was given by Dr. Symonds, and is in memory of his friend Canon Guthrie.

The small windows on the lower tier of the south aisle are in memory of Antony Carrow, of the Royal Engineers, who was killed in an accident. They are illustrations of the Magnificat and the Nunc Dimittis, and bear the following inscription :—

In memoriam A. Carrow has fenestras pater et mater ponendas curaverunt A.D. MDCCCX.

Like the corresponding window on the north side, these are the work of Mr. Archibald K. Nicholson.

Ten of the twelve small windows in the antechapel were given by lady friends of the late Mrs. Guthrie; the two remaining windows were the gift of the architect.

We will now give the inscriptions on the various brasses.

In the chancel, on the north side, is a brass that commemorates the founding of the Chapel. The words are :—

To the Glory of God

This Chapel was erected by Caroline Guthrie, in memory of her husband, the December, 1865.

The Chapel was opened on the 15th of June, 1867.
She herself died on the 15th of April, 1866, before the work was completed, so that it remains as a joint memorial of her who gave it and of him whose name it was intended to honour.

“ And their works do follow them.”—Rev. xiv. 13.

Then, beginning as before at the west end of the north aisle, the first brass bears in its upper half the following inscription :—

At the west end of the north aisle are the brasses erected after the conclusion of the South African War. As the names appear in full in the chapter on the memorial they need not be here repeated. Close by them is a brass bearing the words :—

Quorum nomina juxta leguntur vitae prodigi patriae profuere.
Idem apud matrem quam exornarunt alumni memorem mortui vivunt.

On various stalls small brasses have been placed bearing the names of masters who have died while still in active work. The names are :—

He died January 11th, 1878, aged 33 years.

Opposite to these are two others :—

Sacred to the memory of Edmond Claude Elles, Lieutenant, 2nd K.E.O. Gurkha Rifles, born 22nd April, 1879, Clifton, 1893-1897, who after distinguished service died at Mussoorie, 12th July, 1907, aged 28 years. “Thy will be done.”

Sacred to the memory of Malcolm Rothney Elles, Captain Royal Engineers, born 1875, Clifton, 1888-1892, who after distinguished service was drowned at Roorkee, India, on the 7th October, 1906, whilst gallantly trying to rescue his orderly. “Truly my hope is even in Thee.”

And, lastly, there are brasses in memory of two faithful servants of the School, who will long be remembered with affection :—

George Wilson,
School Marshal, 1881–1897.

Since the Chapel was completed it has been enriched by various gifts. Mr. H. L. Wethered (O.C.) has presented a new bell, which is used solely to summon to the Chapel services. The bell was founded in Mr. Wethered's works in Bristol, and a party of masters and boys were invited to witness the process, and enjoyed a most interesting experience. On the bell are engraved the names T. E. Brown and C. W. A. Tait, and the following inscription, composed by Mr. S. T. Irwin :—

Almae matri alumnus, T. E. B. et C. W. A. T., magistris amicis bonarum apud recentiores litterarum blandis conciliatoribus, grates agit discipulus H. L. W., vitam integram sermonem purum mores probos comesque ut posteris contingant Genium Cliftonensem nunquam non rogaturus.

Mrs. W. O. Moberly, Miss A. Taylor and Miss A. M. Lucas have given a brass cross and five pairs of vases for the altar in memory of their brothers, A. T. Taylor (1863–1868) and Noel Lucas (1865–1869), who died in 1909 and 1905 respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Moberly have given a carved oak cupboard for the vestry. The ladies of the School and a few old friends have presented an embroidered super-frontal for the altar, the work of the St. Mary's Work Society.

An Old Cliftonian has given four oak and walnut seats to replace some of the old seats of pinewood. The same generous donor, with the aid of certain other O.C.'s, has since undertaken to complete the reseating of the whole of the north-west portion of the Chapel.

It only remains to say that up to the year 1873 the services in Chapel were held in the morning and afternoon. In 1868 Mr. Oakeley started Sunday evening organ recitals in Chapel, at which attendance was voluntary, and averaged about a hundred. During the two winter terms of 1873–74 the second Chapel service was held in the evening. In 1875 the present custom was adopted. In place of the evening Chapel there was established for the boarders in the two winter terms the Big School Lecture, which thus from the beginning partook of the nature of a religious service. This service has always consisted of a collect, a hymn, an organ voluntary, played by Mr. Oakeley, later by Mr. Trimnell, and subsequently by Mr. Peppin, or occasionally by one of the School. Then follows a lecture, another hymn, and prayers. With few exceptions, the lectures have been given by Masters, but occasionally a visitor has delivered the address.

The first edition of the College hymn-book was published in 1863. It was compiled by a Committee of Masters and boys, and has three times subsequently—in 1872, 1885 and 1894—been re-edited and enlarged. A Psalter, by Sir Herbert Oakeley, was introduced in March, 1886, the feature of which was the alternation of choir and congregational singing. The same principle was maintained in the Prayer Book, substituted for the Psalter in 1899, in which the Canticles and Psalms were pointed, and the chants used for them were printed. Mr. Peppin superintended the musical part of this book.

CHAPTER VIII.

COLLEGE BUILDINGS.

WE will now give a sketch of the growth of the College buildings, which will be made more intelligible by an inspection of the accompanying plan, which Mr. A. D. Thomas has kindly prepared for this book.

The first buildings connected with the College were the present Big School and School House. They were begun early in 1861, and opened in September, 1862. One open fives court was also built in that year. These buildings then stood alone among green fields.

In 1863 the School House was finished.

In 1864 some land was set apart for the Sanatorium in the south-east corner of the Close; and the cricket ground was levelled by the removal of rock and soil from the end nearest the terrace, and by filling up the natural hollow that crossed the Close towards the Sanatorium.

On February 9th of this year, during a hard frost the roof of Big School caught fire from a wooden plug left in one of the chimneys. By dint of great efforts of masters and boys the fire was got under before very much harm was done. But it was a narrow escape.

In the same year three open fives courts were built, standing apart from any then existing building, but now the centre of a group with the gymnasium at back, the small bath fronting them, and the big bath and chemical school on either hand.

In 1865 the Sanatorium building farthest from the College, now known as No. 2, was erected. The fives courts erected in the previous year were covered, partly at the expense of the Head Master.

In 1866 the wing of Big School containing the Old Sixth Form School was added.

In 1867 the Chapel was built as above detailed; also the first practical laboratories were built, and formed part of a range of schools adjoining the Guthrie Road, which have now disappeared. The same year saw the erection of the Gymnasium.

In 1868 the baths were built, and opened in the following spring; and the cricket pavilion was also built, partly by subscription, and partly at the expense of the Council.

In 1870 the library portion of the Percival buildings was erected. The classrooms below were built by the Council, while the Library was the gift of Dr. Percival.

The gift is commemorated in the Library itself by a brass tablet, on which the inscription is as follows:—

The Council of Clifton College place this tablet to record the munificent gift of the Head Master, the Rev. John Percival, to whose liberality Clifton College is indebted for the erection of this Hall, which, in grateful remembrance of the donor, is called
THE PERCIVAL LIBRARY.
July, 1870.

In the same year also the Sanatorium, now known as No. 1, was built, and the porter's lodge adjoining it.

In 1871 the further extension of buildings may be gathered from the Council report of that year.

REPORT FOR 1871.

To render more complete the facilities for the study of Physical Science, the Council have thought it advisable to add a Physical Laboratory to the range of buildings at the back of the College, and at the same time have erected a workshop adjoining it. These are both under the superintendence of the master teaching Physical Science, who is also a Civil Engineer.

The workshop was built on the site of the original five courts, and two open five courts, between the workshop and the College building, were erected in the place of the one demolished.

In 1872 an open racquet court was built by subscription, covering approximately the site of the present covered five courts near the small bath. It was considerably larger than ordinary racquet courts.

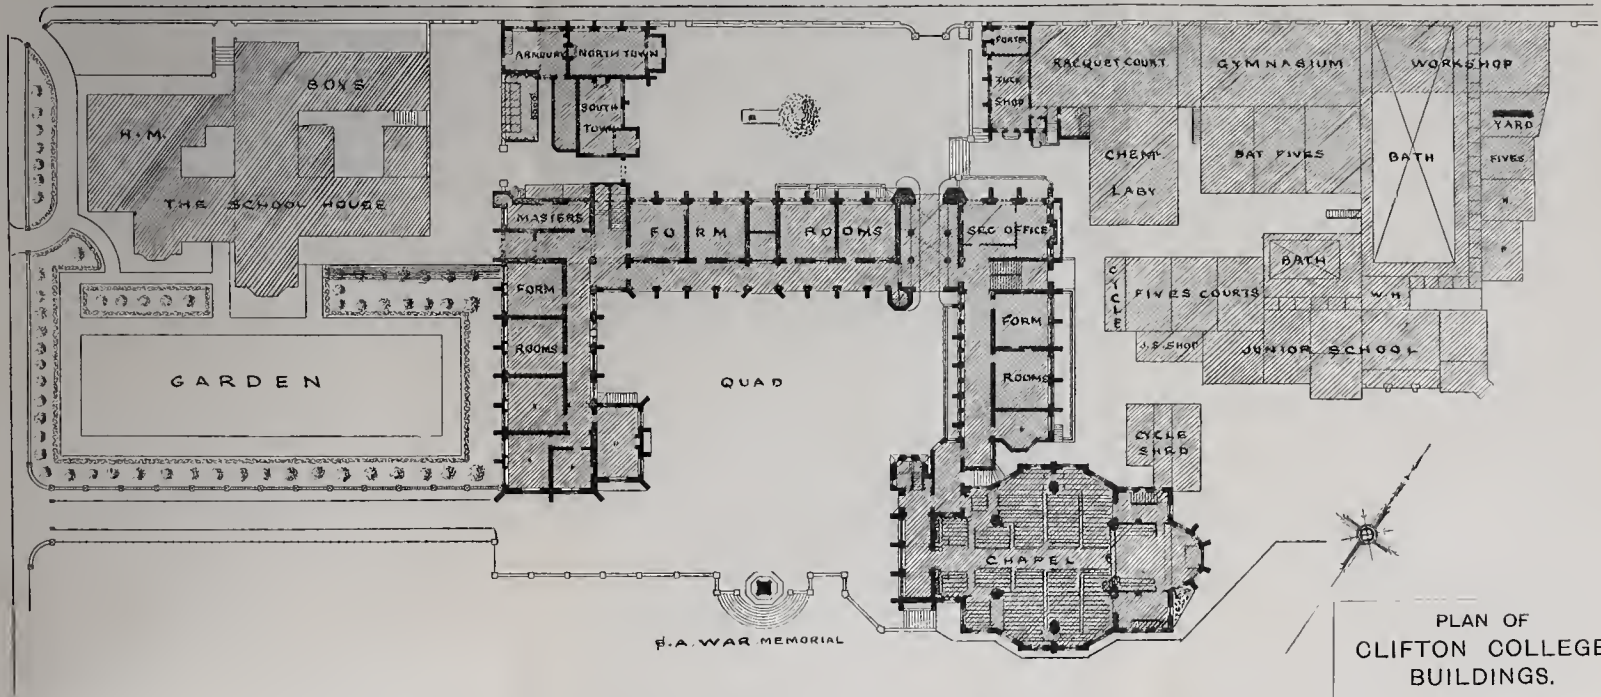

In 1874 the Choral Society presented the organ in Big School.

In 1875 the workshop spoken of above was converted into classrooms, and a new workshop built over the end of the large bath.

Two covered fives courts were erected by subscription where the present South Town room now stands.

Also in 1875 the Museum and open cloister were added, as will be seen from the following extract from the Council Report :—

REPORT FOR 1875.

In the meantime, further advances have been made towards the completion of the buildings. In the early part of the year a voluntary movement was set on foot by the masters, boys, and some friends of the Head Master, to add a Museum, with classrooms, etc., to the Library, and to erect a cloister in front of the buildings thus extended, to comprise together "The Percival Buildings," and they invited the Council to approve their proposal, and to assist them in their object. The Council had much pleasure in doing this, and in bearing their share of the expense. As a result of the scheme, they now direct attention to the range of buildings completed in January last, providing a Museum, two classrooms, and offices, which add considerably to the utility and comfort of the School, and give a tone and finish to the architectural effect of the whole structure.

In 1876 the Junior School buildings were added. Up to this time the Juniors had been taught in Big School. What nerves of iron must the Junior School masters have then enjoyed, with five forms taught simultancously in that School, where every sound echoes and re-echoes ! Each master had a bell, which he sounded when he wished to admonish his colleagues that the noise was intolerable, and his own form inaudible. Not unfrequently all five bells were sounded at once. Happy, indeed, their release.

REPORT FOR 1876.

Some time since the attention of the Council was drawn to the advisability of erecting a separate building for the Junior School, with a view of separating this department more thoroughly from the Upper School. As it was much desired by the Head Master, and the Council were convinced that it was decidedly for the general advantage of the College that such provision should be made, they last summer selected a site between the Chapel and the Baths, and began the erection of a building according to the plans furnished by Mr. Hansom, to comprise one large room in the centre and four rooms adjoining, to give the accommodation required. The building is now roofed in, and will shortly be ready for occupation. A separate entrance will be made from the College Road, near the workshop. The site has been so chosen as to take little or nothing from the space available for the boys' recreation, while the structure is thoroughly in character with the other buildings, pleasing in itself, and completes the handsome and substantial range which forms the southern front of the College.

1877 was the year of the Royal Charter, a subject which deserves a chapter to itself. In this year also the Clifton College Building Fund was started, which led to the building of the east wing, the enlargement of the Chapel, and the building of the racquet court.

And during this year Sanatorium No. 3 was built, and one of the Junior School fives courts was converted into a classroom.

In 1878 was started the confectioner's shop, in a temporary shed. It was then a branch of one of the shops of Clifton.

In 1879, during the summer, the old racquet court, which was a good deal out of repair, and little used, was converted into three covered fives courts. The Junior School buildings were extended by an enlargement of the fives court school, making it into a good classroom, and by the addition of the school which stands next to it, with two gables.

In 1880 the Clifton College Building Fund having reached a total of £3,992 13s. 8d., of which part was unappropriated, part given to the Chapel, part for new schools, and part for a racquet court, it was decided to proceed with the new schools, the Head Master undertaking to collect further funds for the enlargement of the Chapel. The east wing was therefore built on land which had been used as a botanical garden, from and including the staircase southward towards the Chapel, thus providing seven classrooms, and an excellent Physical Science Lecture-room and Laboratory. In the same year an observatory at the back of College Gate, containing a good and well-mounted refracting telescope, was given by Mr. A. M. Worthington, then one of the masters. This has now been removed.

The bust of Dr. Percival, by Woolner, which had been given by the School, was placed in the Library in this year.

In 1881 the north aisle of the Chapel was added, as related in Chapter VII.

In 1882 the Sanatorium was finished by building the rooms for the matron, and bathrooms and waiting-room, connecting No. 1 and the older portion of the Sanatorium.

In 1884 the racquet court and its dressing-room were built from funds given by masters, old Cliftonians, and friends.

In the same year also the Chemical Laboratory was enlarged by the addition of an upper story.

In the spring of 1886 a further step was made towards the completion of the buildings. The east wing had up to this time been built only as far as the staircase, and presented a blank wall to the road. The racquet court similarly presented a blank west wall. The Council decided on completing the east wing according to the original design, and adding at the end of the racquet court a building worthy of so conspicuous a position. The ground floor of this building contains a porter's room and the confectioner's shop, and in the upper floor is a drawing school presided over by the Art Master. Soon after these plans were decided upon, Mr. Tait and Mr. Wollaston, the Town Tutors, consulted the Head Master as to the possibility of providing the Towns with suitable large rooms, and offered to guarantee the whole cost of these rooms, amounting to £1,000. The South Town had hitherto occupied what is now a classroom at the end of the old cloister, and the North Town had of late years occupied the end room in the new cloister. Colonel Plant also, the honorary Captain of the School Engineer Corps, pressed for a larger Armoury. The Armoury had hitherto been a small room occupying much less than half of its present floor. A plan was therefore brought by the Head Master before the Council for the removal of the two covered and two open fives courts, and the range of schools that lay behind them in the north Quadrangle, and the erection of the present Armoury and Town rooms. Four covered fives courts were built at the same time on what was the Head Master's kitchen garden.

In 1887 these buildings were all opened. The Secretary's office and bookroom were moved to their present convenient position in the east wing.

Up till this time, ever since the completion of the east wing in 1880, there had been an unsightly gap between it and the Library and Museum. In May, 1888, the first steps were taken towards the completion of the whole block of the School buildings by the addition of the Tower. Most appropriately the Council determined that the Tower should be known as the Wilson Tower, for the Head Master generously gave the sum of £2,000, sufficient to build the archway and the Council Room and to furnish that room, and at the same time with the assistance of some of the senior masters, he guaranteed that a further sum of £2,000 should be paid within three years of the completion of the Tower. To provide a part of the guaranteed sum a fund was started among Old Cliftonians. The work began early in 1889, and the new Sixth Form Room was occupied for the first time on July 1st, 1890. The original design was to create a Museum and Geography School in the large room on the top floor, and the arrival of an interesting skeleton of a horned quadruped gave rise to hope that at any rate one part of the design would be achieved, but other demands were irresistible, and but for the fact that the room contains a wonderful collection of birds, representative of the bird-life of every part of the world, collected by Miss Marianne North, and on her death in 1891 given to the College through Mr. Wollaston, no trace of the original scheme would survive.

The School was now well equipped with buildings, and the original design of the architect was completed. Meantime the numbers of the School had grown too large for safe and convenient accommodation in the Close. The following extract shows how the Council met this difficulty.

REPORT FOR 1890.

The Council have long had their attention drawn to the crowded state of the College Close, and with a view to remedy this and to provide additional playgrounds for the boys, they have recently agreed to purchase from the trustees of the late Mr. Thomas Proctor a piece of ground in Canynge Road, containing about $4\frac{1}{2}$ acres. The ground is conveniently situated as regards the College, and is in every respect suited for the purpose for which it is required, and the purchase has already received the unanimous sanction of the governors in special meeting. The outlay in acquiring this additional ground has been large, but the value of the ground to the College can, in the opinion of the Council, scarcely be overrated. Whilst on this subject, the Council desire to record their best thanks to the House Masters for liberally undertaking for the next seven years to bear the expense incident to the care and maintenance of the new ground.

One further addition to the School buildings remains to be recorded. It is sufficiently described in the accompanying extract :—

REPORT FOR 1896.

In appointing an organist and director of music it was considered desirable to make some changes in the system of music teaching in the School, and the Council, on the recommendation of the Head Master, have therefore arranged that the individual teaching of instrumental music to the boys, and the superintendence of practice, which before were the private concern of the organist, the assistants being selected by himself, should now be taken up as a College matter, and worked under the Head Master, by the director of music and a staff of assistant teachers appointed by the former. In order to further improve and develop the system, the Council have determined to erect a music school—which will comprise a large room for choral and orchestral rehearsals, a director's room, and seventeen small rooms for individual practice—on a portion of the ground hitherto used by the Head Master as a kitchen garden, which he has kindly surrendered for the purpose, and plans have been accordingly drawn out for the building, which it is designed to erect in the course of the next few months.

In Chapter IX details are given as to the use made of the new Music School. Here it need only be said that the provision of adequate accommodation for the teaching of music has led to a development of musical appreciation among the boys that has almost surpassed expectation. The number of those learning music began to grow at once, and has continued steadily to increase.

CHAPTER IX.

SCHOOL ORGANISATION AND INSTITUTIONS.

FROM the beginning the School was divided into Classical and Modern sides.

In 1873 it became advisable to make a separate class to prepare boys for the Indian Engineering College at Coopers Hill, and for the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich; and in 1875 a new department, known as the Military and Engineering Side, was established, and placed under Mr. Hall, an Old Cliftonian, who had been recently appointed. In the last term of 1875 the numbers were as follows: Classical side, 243; Modern side, 139; Military and Engineering side, 22; and Junior School, 121. The corresponding numbers at present are 179, 209, 65 and 110.

Towards the end of 1862 Dr. Percival had proposed to Mr. Hartnell, who then had a small school in Clifton, that he should transfer his school to the College as the nucleus of a department for younger boys, but there was a difficulty in securing a suitable house, which caused considerable delay. In April, 1863, the Junior School was opened at 7 Rodney Place with Mr. Hartnell and Mr. Luckman as Masters, and in September, 1863, it had so increased that No. 8 Rodney Place was taken for teaching purposes only, the whole of No. 7 being required as a boarding-house. The Junior School was removed to Big School in February, 1867, and to its present buildings in 1876.

In 1874 the Head Master recommended the establishment of a small Preparatory School, and this was opened under Mr. Escott at No. 4 College Terrace, Northcote Road. In September, 1880, this School was transferred to Gresford Lodge, and in January, 1908, to its present home at Elveden, The Avenue. The number of boys at Christmas, 1911, was 50.

In 1883 the alterations in regulations for admission into regiments of the line made it advisable to introduce some special arrangements for Sandhurst candidates; and this department, which was worked along with the Woolwich classes, was placed under the charge of Mr. Stevens.

In 1895 a class was started under Mr. Rintoul for giving special tuition to boys intending to adopt the Engineering profession. This class also has been lately amalgamated with the Military side.

A very important School institution is that of Evening Preparation. A certain number of boys are allowed to prepare their work in their studies. This privilege depends upon a boy's Form, and weekly place in the Form. The rest have Preparation in the House Hall, under the superintendence of a Preparation Master.

The Resident House Tutor was from the first an institution in the School House, as is now the case in all. His duties are to assist the House Master generally, and particularly to take a share in the Preparation. The tuition is different from that which obtains at many other Public Schools—Eton, for example. At Clifton nearly the whole of a boy's working time is spent in School with Form or Set Masters; consequently there is little time for additional or co-ordinate work done with the Tutor. Attempts have from time to time been made to assimilate our tuition, in this respect, to that of Eton or Rugby. But the stress of work infallibly tends to confine the tuition within the limits of additional preparation for Form and Set work in School. This tuition is paid for by the House Master. All Houses have also attached to them non-resident Tutors, who assist in the ordinary work of the House.

This system of tuition has been, to some extent, adopted in the Town Houses. It will be seen, therefore, that every boy at Clifton, beside his Form Master and Set Masters, has a Tutor, but that the functions of the Tutor differ materially from those of Tutors at many other Schools.

Besides the House Tutor and his counterpart in the Town "Houses," other masters often act as "Private Tutors," taking boys individually or in very small classes in any subject which they may wish to study outside the regular routine and outside the ordinary School hours.

Amongst the studies and activities of the School Music takes a high place.

The Choir, in 1862, was under the direction of Mr. Hipwell, and consisted of about eighteen voices. In 1864 Mr. Trimnell became Organist and Choirmaster, being succeeded in 1896 by Mr. A. H. Peppin, the present Organist and Director of Music.

The Choral Society was started in 1865, and in 1868 a concert was given at Easter to start a fund for providing an organ in Big School. At this concert the "Masters' Quartet" was introduced for the first time. At Christmas, 1869, we had the first singing of "Auld Lang Syne." At Easter, 1874, the organ was ready for use. The cost was mainly defrayed by the Choral Society, out of funds arising from their concerts.

The Choral Society consists of about 90 members, and the Orchestral Society, which was begun in 1876, at present consists of about 20 members. Both Societies meet on Saturday evenings in the Music School.

In 1873 and 1874 Dr. Wesley wrote two anthems for us—one that which we now use at Commemoration, the other a more elaborate composition to the same words.

The Choir originally sat in the Chancel, but upon the enlargement of the Chapel in 1882 it was much increased in number and removed, at the same time as the organ, to the middle of the nave where it now sits, though the splendid organ presented to the School in 1911 has been set up at the west end of the nave. This beautiful instrument has produced a marked improvement in the singing both of Choir and congregation.

During recent years some attempt has been made to increase the importance of music as an element in the life of the School. An Orchestral Concert is given once a year by local professional musicians. Four lectures are given by the Director of Music before the Concert to explain the structure of the compositions, members of the Orchestral Society providing the illustrations required, with the result that the boys become sufficiently acquainted with the music to appreciate the masterpieces performed.

Musical Scholarships are offered for competition every summer, and boys who wish to specialize in music can have their work so arranged as to make it possible for them to be prepared for a musical career without foregoing the advantages of a Public School education.

The House Competitions, which were originally choral, have been revived in the form of instrumental competitions, each House being represented by three boys.

In addition to its other uses the Music School also serves from time to time as a gallery for the exhibition of pictures obtained on loan. Pictures by G. F. Watts, Stanhope Forbes, and others have thus been shown.

The Scientific Society was founded on June 25th, 1869, with Dr. Debus as its first President, and J. F. M. W. Stone as Secretary. Canon Kingsley delivered the first lecture to the Society. Subsequent Presidents have been Messrs. M. J. Barrington Ward (1870), J. G. Grenfell (1872), G. H. Wollaston (1874), H. C. Playne (1898), F. B. Stead (1904), and E. C. Atkinson (1908). From 1879 to 1889 the Head Master was President with Mr. Wollaston as Vice-President.

About eight general meetings are held during the winter terms, at which papers are read and discussed. In addition the sections, which at present are Geological, Photographic, Chemical and Physical, Botanical, Archæological, Zoological and Entomological, arrange meetings and excursions of their own.

In the summer term the different sections go excursions, mainly on special days, decided on in consultation with the Captain of Cricket at the beginning of the term. Occasionally the Society has a general excursion.

From its early days until 1886 Proceedings were published, and since 1908 a short annual report has been issued.

The Museum was started in 1871 with Mr. Barrington-Ward as Curator. Old Cliftonians and others have been generous in presenting collections and specimens. In its present quarters the Museum is overcrowded, and it is sometimes unfortunately necessary to refuse offers of specimens, owing to the impossibility of exhibiting them suitably.

A Debating Society, which was started by thirteen members of the School House in the year 1867, was soon afterwards thrown open to the Sixth and Fifth Forms of the School generally. The numbers were sometimes small, but the discussions were often vigorous. Masters came sometimes as visitors, and made speeches, but the management of the Society has always been in the hands of leading members of the Sixth. The meetings were held in the Sixth Form room, and the Head of the School presided on the Head Master's stool. In 1872 an important change was made in the constitution of the Society and the method of its debates. Since that time the debates have been held in imitation of the House of Commons, the Head of the School presiding as Speaker. The subject is proposed by a Right Honourable Member, who gets together a Government to carry his measure, whilst some late Prime Minister leads the Opposition.

Four or five debates are now held in each term in the Council Room, which has been found more convenient than the Library. Fags can be brought as visitors by members of the Sixth and Fifth.

The Houses also have Debating Societies, which meet on Saturday nights several times in each of the two winter terms, the other Saturdays being occupied by House Readings or House Concerts, except when there is a School Debate.

Boxing is also a Saturday night institution in all Houses in the earlier part of the evening.

Since 1887 the artistic education of the School has been under the charge of an Art Master.

Drawing, is taught to all boys in the lower part of the School, and throughout the Modern and Military and Engineering sides. Many boys also take up drawing as an extra subject. A Life Class meets once a week, and an exhibition of Drawings of all kinds, painting and modelling, is held annually, and prizes are awarded. Many drawings are annually sent up to the Royal Drawing Society. In the year 1911 the School obtained two of the Society's Gold Medals (including the President's Prize), one Silver Medal and five Bronze.

The LIBRARY and MUSEUM are supported by voluntary subscriptions from the parents of boys in the School, and by gifts from Old Cliftonians and others. As a distinct institution, with higher ambitions than the ordinary house libraries aspire to, the Library appears to date from 1867. Its policy is controlled by a Committee of about ten masters and seven boys, mostly heads of houses; its administration is in the hands of a permanent librarian (Mr. Fowler succeeded Mr. Martin in 1902), and the seven members of the Sixth are each on duty for an hour in the week. We have no ancient manuscripts to boast of, except a precious bit of Oxyrhynchus Papyrus, presented by the Egypt Exploration Fund; but we have some good examples of early printed editions of the classics, and a few first editions of famous English books (Poems by Two Brothers, and Boswell's Johnson). Mr. H. G. Dakyns' endowment of a small fund for the purchase of works connected with Greek art and literature has already made the library strong on this side; a Bartholomew Fund is to be applied to Indian books, and an Irwin Fund to Latin and English books. The custom of adding a brick to the building by presenting a book on leaving has existed since 1867, and has been increasingly observed of late, with a marked advance in the permanent value and usefulness of the books contributed, due to the annual publication in the July Cliftonian of a carefully selected list of Libri Desiderati.

The Cadet Corps was started in December, 1875, with 100 members, and was attached for War Office requirements to the Bristol Engineer Volunteers, of which Colonel E. C. Plant was the Commanding Officer. It has always been the wish and endeavour of those connected with the Engineer Cadet Corps that it should rank as one of the games of the School, and not a part of the lessons, and that it should as far as possible have the same organisation as the other games.

Recent War Office changes, by which the object of School Cadet Corps has been officially defined as being "to provide students with a standardised measure of elementary military training," has compelled us to modify the organisation of the Corps in a manner somewhat detrimental to this ideal, since the "standardisation" has been effected by the introduction of an examination; but successive Captains have done their best to maintain as far as possible the spirit of the founders, and in particular it may be mentioned that responsibility for the discipline of the Corps rests ultimately with the "School Captain," who is always a member of the Sixth Form. Mr. R. T. Carter was the first Honorary Captain, and in October, 1876, the first School Captain was appointed, R. E. Young-husband, then Head of the School. In July, 1876, was the first annual inspection. In December, 1877, Mr. Carter was succeeded by Col. E. C. Plant, to whom the Corps and the School owe a large debt for his careful and successful management. Subsequent captains have been D. Rintoul, 1894; J. F. Dobson, 1904; and H. Clissold, 1905.

The numbers of the Corps have steadily if slowly grown, and have now reached nearly 300, the establishment being three companies.

In 1890 the Corps went into camp in the summer holidays at Kelston with the Bristol Engineers. Since 1895 it has attended the Public School Camp at Aldershot or Tidworth. During this time the numbers attending have steadily grown, and the detachment in 1911 numbered 175, the camp lasting ten days.

Rifle shooting has always received the fullest attention in the Corps, and the performance of the shooting eight chronicled in another chapter represents a very small part of the work which is done by all members of the Corps at Bedminster, and on the 25 yard and 200 yard range in the Avon Gorge, which with the assistance of subscriptions from Old Cliftonians the Corps was able to construct in 1901, and which was subsequently enlarged in 1906 by the Merchant Venturers' Society, from whom we enjoy the most liberal facilities in its use.

In spite of its change of status to a contingent of the "O. T. C.," the Corps remains an Engineer Corps, and during the spring term much attention is paid to engineering, including entrenchment and revetting, bridging of various kinds, and the general uses of spars, tackle and brushwood. This department of the work of the Corps has always received particular commendation from successive Inspecting Officers.

This chapter would not be complete without some reference to institutions by which old members of the School have sought to facilitate their intercourse, and emphasise the essential unity between past and present.

Of these the first chronologically are the periodic Old Cliftonian Dinners which are held in Scotland, South Africa, and India, and especially the Triennial Dinner in London, which was first held in 1887, with Dr. Percival in the chair.

In 1909 an Old Cliftonian Lodge of Freemasons, No. 3340, was inaugurated.

The Lodge was duly consecrated on January 22nd, 1909, and has steadily grown in numbers. One of the earliest initiates was the Head Master, the Rev. A. A. David. The first W.M. was W. Bro. P. Colville Smith. The second W. M. was W. Bro. Percy Sargent, who was succeeded by W. Bro. Hunter Tod for 1911-1912.

In 1896 the Committee of the Triennial Dinner proposed the formation of the Old Cliftonian Society, which held its first annual general meeting in March, 1897, with J. A. Neale in the chair. A. W. Paul, C.I.E., was elected President, and the Society started with forty members, the first Secretary being R. E. Whithead, to whose energetic administration the success of the Society is mainly due. By the next annual meeting over 400 members had joined, and the numbers are now over 1600.

The objects of the Society are:—

- (a) To facilitate intercourse between Old Cliftonians.

- (b) To issue notices from time to time to every Member with regard to matters of general Cliftonian interest.
- (c) To manage the Old Cliftonian dinners, and defray the expenses attendant thereon, including the entertainment of guests.
- (d) To defray such of the expenses connected with Old Cliftonian athletics as the Committee shall from time to time sanction.
- (e) To encourage and assist any matter of immediate interest to the School.
- (f) To keep a list of the names and addresses of all Members of the Society; and
- (g) Such other objects as the Committee shall from time to time determine.

An O.C. becomes a life member by the payment of a guinea.

The present Secretary is Arthur Stone, 5 Finsbury Circus, London, E.C.

CHAPTER X.

THE BOARDING-HOUSES.

ONLY a few words of explanation are required by way of supplement to the tabulated lists of the boarding-houses.

In September, 1862, the School House was the only boarding-house. It was erected on the site of the old "Gardener's Arms," a well-known country public-house.

Olden Lodge, now a Junior School House, was occupied by Mr. Dakyns as a boarding-house from April, 1865, till August, 1867, when he gave up the house to Mr. Cay, who transferred the boys in October of that year to a new house which had just been built, and which is now Mr. Barff's house. Mr. Dakyns became House Master once more on Mr. Cay's death in December, 1869.

In 1874 Mr. T. W. Dunn opened a boarding-house at what is now known as 30 College Road. On his appointment to the Head-mastership of Bath College, he was succeeded by the Rev. H. J. Wiseman, in April, 1878, who in September of the same year removed the boys to a new house which he had been building in Albert Road. The house which he had left was then taken by the Rev. H. C. Watson.

In January, 1878, the Head Master reported to the Council that in connection with communications received from Lionel L. Cohen, Esq., on behalf of some of the leading members of the Jewish community, he had arranged with Mr. B. Heymann to receive ten Jewish boys into a house, which Mr. Heymann was about to take in Clifton for the purpose, and that the boys would be under the supervision of the Head Master, and under the discipline of the School as in other Houses. The number of boys has subsequently been considerably increased.

From time to time small Houses have been held by various masters, intended partly for delicate boys, partly also as waiting-houses for others. In 1880 all the boarders in the small Houses, and the boys in Mr. Heymann's House, were grouped together for games and discipline in one organisation known as the "United House." Previously to 1880 these Houses had been attached to the North and South Towns.

The Jewish House has recently been admitted to the regular House Matches, and the small Houses no longer exist.

The organisation of the day boys as "Houses," one of the most original and valuable institutions at Clifton, was first undertaken at Dr. Percival's suggestion in September, 1874. A division into North and South Towns was determined on, the boundary being as far as possible the continuation of a line passing through the Chapel from east to west. For the first two terms, although the two Towns were under the charge of different masters, Mr. Tait and Mr. Moor, and had to some extent a separate organisation, they continued to act together as one body for all School purposes. In April, 1875, the Town was finally divided into two independent bodies. The building of the Town Rooms is recorded in another chapter.

The subjoined lists show the various changes that have taken place in the tenure of the Houses :—

CHAPTER XIII.

THE GAMES.

A COMPLETE history of the games of the School would involve an account of all the outdoor life of the place since its foundation ; it will, therefore, be impossible to give here anything more than the barest outline of their growth and development. An authentic and continuous history of the games since 1867 may be read in the pages of The Cliftonian, and it will not be necessary to notice in this chapter anything further than the more important changes, improvements, and additions there recorded. "One preliminary remark it may be worth while to make. Ever since the School began, the games have been regarded as an essential part of the education of the place, and it has always been part of the unwritten constitution of the School to keep games and work so harmoniously combined as to avoid anything like a division into those that work and those that play ; and on these lines the development of the games has always proceeded."

Football.

The games of the School began in the winter term of 1862 with football, organised on the Rugby system by Wellesley, the first Head of the School, and the first Cap, with the help of Mr. Dakyns. The matches played in the first few years were all school games with the exception of one match against Marlborough College, played at Marlborough in the year 1864, in which our opponents had the best of the game. A quotation referring to this match may here be made from a letter received from a Cliftonian who was one of the combatants : "The game certainly had the appearance of a hostile encounter rather than a friendly football match. However, all differences and grievances were forgotten during the jovial supper with which we ended the day in the hall at Marlborough, and all finished pleasantly."

The first match against the Clifton Club was played in 1874, and since that date it has been an annual event. Other foreign matches have been gradually introduced, of which the most important has been that against Marlborough, first played in 1891. Matches were played against Sherborne in 1904 and 1905; and in 1911 a match was played against Wellington.

In 1868 House ties were first instituted, the School House having hitherto always played the School in its own right. For the first three years the School House was Cock House, but in 1871 Brown's won that distinction for the first time.

In 1878 the Rugby Union Rule was adopted, which limits the number of players to fifteen a side, a change which was thought necessary in order to keep our football up to the requirements of the modern game.

For many years the School and House Little-Sides gave valuable opportunities of practice. In recent years a system of matches between House fifteens, consisting of those not chosen to play on Big-Side, has replaced the School Little-Sides, and has proved of great assistance to the football.

We may finish our account of the football with a very few words on the "Caps," and certain important changes which have been attempted in connection with them. As has been stated above, the football was organised on the Rugby system, according to which the cap was a House distinction given by the Sixth Form in each House. Hence the caps have always been House caps. In 1866 black caps were instituted as a School distinction, but these, proving unsatisfactory, were abolished in 1868, and badges on the jersey were invented in their place. The badges disappeared in their turn in 1873, and were not replaced until 1906, when a School Fifteen, wearing the same distinction, was instituted, and was led by an elected Captain of Football, who must be a member of the Sixth Form, and who, besides the right of choosing his fifteen, has a veto on the award of House caps.

Cricket.

The cricket of the School began in the summer term of 1863, under the captaincy of J. F. Walker, and even at that early date the Eleven contained several excellent cricketers, and among them C. B. L. and E. F. S. Tylecote. The clubs against whom the School played in those early days were the Clifton, Lansdowne, Stoke Bishop, Knole Park, Frenchay, Sherborne School (first played 1865), and besides these the Incogniti and an Oxford College or two. Some of these matches have become regular fixtures, and others have since been added. We must not omit to mention the match v. Old Cliftonians, which was at first played at the end of the summer term, but has now for many years been played on the two days of the Guthrie Commemoration.

The most important additions have been the Liverpool match, first played in 1872; the Cheltenham match, first played in 1872; the Malvern match, played from 1905 to 1911; and the Rugby match, first played in 1909.

For many years a match was played against the M.C.C., and the Free Foresters have occasionally brought down an eleven. An interesting match has been occasionally played against Haverford College, U.S.A., against whom in 1896 E. H. L. Steinthal made 216, the second highest individual innings in a foreign match. The highest is J. H. Curtis's 228* against the Clifton Club in 1894.

The highest innings ever played by the School in a foreign match was 502,* in the match v. Cheltenham, in the year 1877. The largest scores were G. S. Saxton, 104; A. H. Evans, 90; H. F. Fox, 75; G. J. Younghusband, 72; and C. Haynes, 60.

A short account of the first Cheltenham match will not be out of place. It was played on our own ground on Monday and Tuesday, June 3rd and 4th, 1872. Cheltenham went in first at eleven o'clock, and were all out for 100 by 1.30. We began batting after luncheon, and at first things looked very bad for us, as we had five of our best wickets down for 13; but then F. Taylor joined H. C. Baxter, who had gone in second wicket down, and these two were not parted till they had raised the score to 86, when Baxter was bowled after "a splendid innings" of 30. Taylor was out last at 200, of which he himself had made 98. To quote from The Cliftonian, "His 98 will be long remembered in the cricketing annals of this place." In their second innings Cheltenham made 162, leaving us 63 to get to win, which was done with the loss of four wickets.

House ties in cricket were first played in 1869. For the first three years the School House was Cock House; in 1872 Brown's gained the position for the first time.

The regular cricket of the School, apart from Big-Side games, consisted for many years of matches between Forms.

* Since the above was written these records have been cut, for in the Liverpool match this year (1912) G. W. E. Whitehead scored 259 not out, out of a total of 531 for eight wickets.

which often created keen rivalry, and had the advantage of keeping boys of the same standing in the School together. In 1908 this was changed for a system of contests between Houses, similar to that employed in football.

Since 1905 a "Colts" net has been maintained, in order to give coaching to promising cricketers not yet old enough for the Big-Side games. The "Colts" have also occasional practice matches, and play a foreign match against the Royal Naval College, Osborne, and this year for the first time against the "Colts" of Sherborne School.

Fives and Racquets.

The history of the fives and racquets of the School is practically contained in the history of the building of the different courts, and may be gathered from the chapter on the buildings. Little, therefore, need be said here. In the early days the two open hand fives courts, which used to stand near the present site of the Town Rooms, were the most popular; indeed, some of the best players the School has turned out learnt all their play in them. The way these courts were "taken" was, if not decorous, at all events exciting. The court was held as taken by the fellow who first hit the front wall above the line with a fives ball; the consequence of this arrangement was a rush and generally a dispute. The court might be retaken at the end of every game. "Game ball," therefore, became doubly exciting both for the actual players and the onlookers, as each one was ready to take the court the moment the game was finished, or even before. Bat-fives also was a very popular game, and so important was it considered that, to quote from a letter received from an excellent and enthusiastic player of that time, "Small, the professional racquet player (next best to Gray in those days), was engaged to improve bat-fives."

The old open racquet court, since converted into covered fives courts, saw our first attempts at racquets. Of the present racquet court it need only be said that the School owes the existence of it very largely to the exertions of Mr. Bartholomew; and it should be added that we first sent representatives up to Prince's for the Public School Competition in 1886; these were A. Read and J. R. Head.

House ties in these various games have been in existence since December, 1869; this, at all events, is the earliest recorded mention of such a competition.

The Scottish Old Cliftonians for many years have given a cup which is awarded to the best racquet player in the School.

Runs and Hockey.

The runs began in the first term of 1863. One of the earliest Heads of the School writes:—"In the first term of 1863 runs were organised by Wellesley with a good deal of vigour, and I believe the Penpole and Horfield countries were pretty thoroughly explored." There is a tradition that the earliest pioneers were the Head Master and Mr. Dakyns. For the first ten years the runs were regular paper-chases, in which the hounds started with a real desire and intention to catch the hares (once only were the hares overtaken in a ditch), and there was a genuine race between the hounds as to who should come in first and soonest after the hares. Marks were awarded to each competitor according to the place and time in which he came in, the limit of time being within five minutes after the first in; these were added up at the end of the season, and the fellow who had the highest marks became the holder of Big-Side bags for that year; a cup also was attached to this dignity. At first the whole School ran together, and those who came in were divided into two sets, there being two prizes, one open to all, the other for those under fifteen; but in 1871 the runs were divided into Big-Side and Little-Side. In course of time this system wore itself out, attendance became irregular and scanty, and in 1873 the pack system was instituted. By this system the School, for running purposes, was divided into two packs, an upper and a lower, and each was put under the charge of a huntsman, assisted by two or more whips. The old "run cup" was appropriated to the winner in one run of the Upper Pack over the Long Penpole course: this was the origin of "The Long Penpole." The old "run cup for those under fifteen" was appropriated to the winner in one run of the Lower Pack over the Short Penpole course: this was the origin of "The Short Penpole."

This system has been in existence with varying success ever since, and has received further developments, all tending to make the runs at once more possible and palatable for all ages and sizes. At first the packs were only two, and all were bound to run in either one or the other ; but in February, 1881, hockey on the Downs was organised as a School game for those who, by doctor's orders, were not allowed to run. In 1882, the hockey not proving satisfactory, a third pack was substituted for it ; and a fourth pack, with the distance and pace of the runs very strictly limited, was added later.

The first winner of the Long Penpole was T. W. Lang, who ran it in 1 hr. 17 min. The course has been changed from time to time, owing to difficulties with farmers. The race since 1897 has been from a point close to Pilning Station to the College. The shortest time in which the present course (just under ten miles) has been run is 64 min. 5 secs., by J. S. Harrison in 1901. On three occasions 37 boys have come in within ten minutes of the winner.

The course of the Short Penpole has been changed for the same reasons, and the length of the race diminished.

House Cup Runs were instituted at an early date in some Houses for those under sixteen ; other Houses give their Junior House Cup to that member of the House who comes in first in the Short Penpole.

In 1911, on the acquisition of Beggar's Bush Piece, hockey was substituted for runs on certain half holidays, each House taking its turn to occupy the grounds, and it is hoped that the School may attain success in this as in other games.

In 1906 the first dinner was given at Henbury to the farmers who so generously allow the School to run over their land. Mr. David presided, and expressed the gratitude which Cliftonians have felt for so long to the farmers, without whose co-operation the runs could not exist as an institution. In the following year the farmers on the Somerset side of the Suspension Bridge were entertained, and from time to time in subsequent years similar dinners have been given by the masters. A score of farmers are present on each occasion, and much goodwill to the School is expressed by the guests.

Athletic Sports.

The Athletic Sports were first held in 1863. In 1867 the Challenge Cup was presented to the School by the Old Cliftonians, and was won on the first occasion by E. F. S. Tylecote, who won the first prize in the mile, half-mile, hurdle race, and grand steeplechase, and the second in the high and broad jumps. In 1868 a system of marks for the Challenge Cup was adopted, which, with slight alterations, is still in use. Three events occur in the original list which have since disappeared—the 300 yards, the grand steeplechase, throwing at wicket; of these the last named has gone beyond recall, for the 300 yards has been substituted the quarter-mile, and for the steeplechase the long hurdles. This steeplechase, it may be interesting to record, was over a course all round Big-Side, rendered preternaturally arduous by artificially-constructed hedges and ditches, one of the latter being filled with water for the occasion. The Long Penpole has, of course, been added to the list of marked events. The prize for the mile has, from the first, been given by the Head Master; and a shield to be held for the year by the House attaining most marks in the sports was presented by Smith's House in 1899.

The swimming races have been an event of the summer term from the year 1867. Till our own baths were constructed, they were held in the Victoria Baths. The events in the original races were 12 lengths, 4 lengths, object-diving, long diving, open to all, and 6 lengths, open to those under 5 ft. 2 in. These have since been added to, and the diving competitions have been given up, as they were found to be dangerous.

In 1901, the Gardiner Challenge Bowl was presented by several brothers of that name who have been at the School. It is competed for by the Houses.

The Gymnasium.

The gymnastic competition was first held on December 19th, 1868. Two prizes were given, a gold and a silver medal; the first was gained by P. W. Cruttwell, and the second by E. J. Davies. The next record of any such event is in the first term of 1873, when there was a competition for admission into the First and Second Eights, and also a competition between members of the First Eight for the silver medal given by the School. In 1883 a competition between House Fours was instituted. In April, 1884, we sent up two representatives, A. Lazenby and J. S. Owen, to the Public Schools Competition, held at Aldershot. We were third on the list, Wellington being first, and Marlborough second; in the following year we were the second, and in 1888 and 1889 we won the shield.

The system of gymnastics has now been re-organised, and the School has ceased to send representatives to this competition, though it is still represented in the Boxing Competitions, in which 29 medals were won between 1890 and 1912.

Shooting.

The first shooting team — an eleven — was formed in January, 1876. In 1877 Mr. Carter presented a Challenge Cup to the Company. It was first competed for on March 6th of that year, the conditions being seven shots at 200 yards and seven at 500, with the short Snider, the rifle with which the Corps was then armed. The winner was M. O. Norris. In 1879 A. W. Paul (O.C.) presented a Challenge Cup for House Fours.

In May, 1877, occurred the first recorded match. This was between eleven of the School and eleven of the Officers and Non-Commissioned Officers of the 2nd G.E.V.C. The School were defeated by 83 points.

In June, 1878, took place the first match against Marlborough College, in which we were beaten by 22 points; and also the first match against the Old Cliftonians, which the School won by 19 points. This year saw our first appearance at Wimbledon in the competition for the Ashburton Shield; we won the eighth place, being behind the winners (Eton) by 52 points. In 1879 we shot our first simultaneous matches with Glenalmond and Rugby. Since that date other similar matches have been added to our list—v. Rossall, Wellington, Malvern, and others.

At the Wimbledon Meeting in 1880 the Cadet Corps Challenge Trophy was won by R. H. Percival and W. H. Veale. In 1881 we had our first match with Cheltenham College, and won by 10 points.

The year 1884 was a memorable one in the annals of the School, for we won both the Ashburton Shield and the Spencer Cup at Wimbledon. The highest individual score was 55, made both by R. S. Giles and R. H. Luce; the total was 364. The Spencer Cup was won by R. H. Luce with 28 points. The eight, on their return home, were received in triumph in the Quadrangle. We won the Shield a second time in 1885, and the School again gave the winners a most enthusiastic reception. The competition of 1884 was the last with the Snider rifle, and that of 1885 the first with the Martini-Henry.

In 1886, at Wimbledon, we won the Cadet Corps Challenge Trophy a second time, H. S. de Brett and R. W. Versturme being our representatives; and in 1890 E. M. Collins and G. F. Cartwright were again victorious. In 1888 the School won the Ashburton Shield for the third time. Since that date our best performances have been: 4th for the Ashburton Shield in 1900, 2nd in 1904 (when we tied with the winners in total score, but made fewer points at the longer range), and 3rd in 1907.

Big-Side Levée.

No account of the games would be complete without some short history of Big-Side Levée, which has under its control the management of the games, with the exception of such matters as are considered either to involve discipline, and therefore to belong to the Sixth Form, or to fall within the province of the Captain of the Eleven or the Captain of the Engineer Corps.

This Levée, as originally constituted by the help and advice of Mr. Dakyns and Mr. Wright, consisted of all members of Big-Side, i.e. of all above fags. At the first meeting held in No. 5 Form Room, in the first term of 1863, on the proposal of Mr. Dakyns, seconded by Mr. Wright, masters were excluded from Big-Side Levée. The Head of the School is President. There is also mention of a School Levée, which was probably a merely theoretically existing body. In 1866 a Big-Side Levée Book was begun, which the President should enter the proceedings in, and "keep for that purpose, and for which he should be responsible to Big-Side." This book is in existence, and presents, with some gaps, for which unprincipled past Heads of the School are responsible, a continuous history of the proceedings of this body. On March 30th, 1870, an important change was made. The Levée had become larger, and its proceedings somewhat informal, if we may judge from a rule passed March 3rd, 1868, "that not more than one member speak at a time, and that he rise to speak"; it was therefore considered advisable to reduce its numbers. This was done by substituting a representative assembly. The resolution by which this important change was effected runs thus: "That in place of the present Big-Side Levée, there be substituted a representative Levée, consisting of the Head of the School, the Captain of the Eleven, the Senior Badge (since 1873 the Representative of Football), the Holder of the Challenge Cup, ex officio; from the Classical VI, four members; from the Modern VI, one; from the Upper V, two; from the Lower V, one; from the Modern V, one; from the School-House, two; from Brown's, one; from Dakyns's, one; from Harris's, one." And this, with slight changes and necessary additions, is still the constitution. The Holder of the Challenge Cup has ceased to be an ex-officio member, except in the summer term. The Captain of the Engineer Corps and the Racquets representative (in the Lent term only) are now members; and a member has been added for each House as it came into existence. There are two members for the Modern Side, and two for the Military Side; and the Middle Fifth and the Lower Fifth each have a representative.

It must be added that no resolution of Big-Side Levée is valid without the approval and signature of the Head Master.

CHAPTER XV.

COMMEMORATION.

THE first Guthrie Commemoration was held on May 22nd, 1868. It consisted of a dinner at the Clifton Down Hotel, Canon Moseley, President of the Council, being in the chair. Several of the Council, the Masters, and Old Cliftonians, and a few members of the Sixth Form, were present, about fifty in all.

It is a commemoration of the building of the Chapel, and of "John Guthrie, and Caroline his wife," its founders, and of all other "founders and benefactors, by whose benefit this whole School is brought up to Godliness and good learning."

In 1871 and following years the supper was held in the Gymnasium, and the Head Master was the chairman. In 1877 it was agreed that in future some distinguished Old Cliftonian should always be President. Since 1884 the supper has been held in Big School. The year 1887 being the completion of the first quarter of a century of the College, it was decided to make an exception to the rule, and invite Dr. Percival to be chairman; and a similar exception was made in 1892, when Mr. H. G. Dakyns was chairman.

In 1871 for the first time a soirée was given by the ladies of the College in connection with the Commemoration, to which their friends in Clifton and Old Cliftonians were invited. In the year 1887 the parents of all the boys in the School, as well as many residents in Clifton and the neighbourhood, were invited by the Council and Masters to a soirée on the evening of Thursday, June 30th. The Library and Museum were thrown open, the Physical Science Room was used as the concert-room, the East Cloister and the Library as refreshment-rooms, and the open Cloister was carpeted and illuminated with Chinese lanterns. Big School was used as the reception-room. On the following day there was a large garden-party at the School House, and the usual supper in Big School.

Closely connected with the Commemoration of 1887 was the Jubilee of Her Majesty. It was worthily observed in the College, and a full record of all the proceedings is preserved in a special number of The Cliftonian. It will be sufficient to record here that an address was drawn up for presentation to the Queen, and read to the whole School assembled with the Council and Masters and Masters' families, the College officials, and the Boarding-House servants, in Big School. It was then signed by the Head Master and by the Head of the School, C. A. Hooper, and subsequently by the Chairman of the Council, and forwarded to Her Majesty.

On Tuesday, June 21st, the Head Master and the Head of the School were present in Westminster Abbey as representatives of the School. Big School, the Library, and all the College Houses were brilliantly illuminated, and the whole School were out from 9.15 to 11.0 to see the bonfires and illuminations. On the same day also the Cricket Eleven and the Shooting Eight and the Racquet Pair were invited by Dr. Percival to try strengths with Rugby. Clifton unfortunately lost all three matches.

On Thursday about three hundred of the School went to the grand service in the nave of the Cathedral, when the Dettingen Te Deum and the Hymn of Praise were performed.

Friday was a whole holiday, and the House Masters organised picnics on a grand scale. The School House, Mr. Brown's, Mr. Watson's, and the South Town, with the College officials, and about a hundred other visitors, chartered a large steamer and went to Porlock and Lynton. Mr. Wiseman's and the small Houses went to Tintern; the North Town to Stinchcombe; Mr. Bartholomew's to Marlborough; Mr. Grenfell's divided into several parties. The Junior School went to Clevedon, and four of their elevens played cricket matches there. The Preparatory School went to Cadbury. The weather was magnificent, and the day most enjoyable.

On Saturday the whole School went to the Review on the Downs, our own grand stand being erected for the purpose. Similar arrangements in the way of picnics and the extension of hours were made on the occasion of Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee in 1897.

In 1895 an alteration was made in the proceedings at Commemoration. On the afternoon of Friday, June 21st, the Head Master gave an address summarising the School's history for the past year, and distributed the prizes, instead of at the end of Term as formerly. Then followed speeches—in the special sense which the word bears on such occasions—taken from Aristophanes (Frogs), Molière (Le Médecin malgré lui), and Sheridan (The Rivals).

For some time past the soirée given annually by the ladies of the College had been growing to unmanageable proportions, mainly owing to the fact that the number of Old Cliftonians who attended the festivities was steadily growing, and also owing to the presence of large numbers of parents of boys in the School, whom Canon and Mrs. Glazebrook made a point of inviting each year, as was done exceptionally in 1887. It was therefore determined in 1907 to issue the invitations to the evening party on the first day of Commemoration in the names of the Council and the Head Master, and to confine them to the parents of boys and to Old Cliftonians. The prize-giving was also transferred to the evening and the speeches were dropped. It is now the custom to invite some distinguished personage to distribute the prizes. Those who have performed this duty so far are :—

- 1907 .. †T. H. Warren, Vice-Chancellor of Oxford University.
1908 .. The Rev. C. S. Roberts, Vice-Chancellor of Cambridge University.
1909 .. Canon J. M. Wilson.
1910 .. †Professor H. H. Turner, F.R.S.
1911 .. No Commemoration.

CHAPTER XVI.

THE SCHOOL MISSION.

IN the early days of the Chapel the offertories were devoted by the Head Master to various religious and charitable objects. But in the year 1869 it was resolved by Dr. Percival, who associated with himself a committee of Masters, to undertake some one definite object in Bristol. They selected work among neglected boys, and established a ragged school in the Sidney Alley, The Dings. This School existed until the School Board opened the Kingsland Road School.

The idea was then formed of taking up a special district in Bristol, in some one of the overgrown suburban parishes, and supplying a Mission Curate to work among the people. It was ascertained that the parish of St. Barnabas, Ashley Road, was much in need of such help, and the offer of assistance was cordially welcomed by the Vicar, Mr. Fuller.

It was therefore resolved, in 1875, to form a Mission Committee, consisting of Masters, Old Cliftonians, and members of the School, to act with the Head Master, and to devote the whole of the College Chapel offertories to this single object. This was at the time a new plan. It was soon followed by several congregations in Clifton; and since that time nearly all the great Public Schools, and many Colleges at Oxford and Cambridge, have similarly linked themselves to poor districts.

The first Curate appointed was Rev. H. D. Rawnsley. A room or two in a cottage were provided him, and shortly afterwards the upper story of a long wooden carpenter's shed, near the corner of Nicholas Road and Newfoundland Road.

Mr. Rawnsley, writing to Mr. Wilson in 1886, gave the following account of the early days of the Mission:—

I remember the impressions of the place. Muck-heaps and farm-refuse, on which jerry-builders had set up rows of houses, which periodically got flooded, and sucked up fever and death from chill for the poor folk who lodged therein. No lamps. Streets only wadeable through. A few public-houses of the worst sort surrounded a bit of open ground which was called "the gardens," in which were tumble-down low huts of squatters in old time. These dwellers were the pick of the neighbourhood. At one of these huts lived an old sailor who had been to the North, in one of the relief expeditions that took food to those who were searching for Sir John Franklin, and he took to me because I was of kin to the Arctic navigator. He was a man who had been converted when he was a prize-fighter in old days at Hull, and he had become a preacher. I listened to many a sermon by his fireside, and was the better for it. I can see the tears rolling down his face as he told me how fourteen of his crew, after starving in the Northern circle, were rescued by another relief party, and could not restrain themselves, but ate ravenously and died like dogs. The "Ancient Mariner" came before me very really in its pathos as he spoke.

The work of the Mission lay round the lowest little public-house and an old carpenter's shop.

I say it calmly, that it was a forlorn hope, and that, what with the liquor and the want of noble surroundings, the devil had his own way and the parson was nowhere.

Service on Sunday was much as follows: On arriving there was a free-fight going on outside the public, or the door of the mission-room, among "Mr. Rawnsley's boys," as they were called. Then calling upon them to be gentlemen and let the women go upstairs first, there was a pause, and up bundled the women and the girls who dared face the meeting.

Then, to seats reserved in front close by me, the lambs came up, and just as prayer began a fusillade of stones from outside would rattle all along the wooden walls of our conventicle, and the noise of horses in the stables below added to the din.

In the midst of prayer the door would be knocked at, and the porter would often be overpowered by a strong rush, and fighting would go on below stairs till I appeared, passed up one or two, and sent off the others.

All would go well till the middle of the hymn, perhaps, cat-calls and whistles sounded outside, and one of my lambs nudged his fellow, and both rising quite courteously, would walk out, saying, "Sorry we got an engagement with a pal, sir. Good night."

Often a man, disguising the fact that he was in liquor, would be in the midst of the mission congregation, and I had to rise from my knees and help to tumble him out, and come back and go on with the prayers as if nothing had happened.

I think that is hard work—very—to fight a man downstairs, and come up and try to be in breath as you go on with sermon or prayer.

The experiment of a Working Men's Club, which Mr. Barnett so generously and genially helped me to set on foot, failed chiefly for want of accommodation, and owing to the fact that we had a weak fellow to be manager. On three occasions I was summoned because the members of the Club were murdering him.

Mr. Rawnsley became Vicar of Crosthwaite, Keswick, in January, 1878, and in May, 1879, the Rev. R. G. Murchison was appointed as Mission Curate by Mr. Fuller, and held the post for a year.

The post was vacant for a time. For month after month an advertisement for a curate appeared, but few applied, or those who came turned away from such a "forlorn hope."

At last, in December, 1880, the Rev. T. W. Harvey called on Mr. Fuller, and after an interview with Mr. Wilson, decided to take the work.

The service began in a small way. Mr. Harvey writes:—

On the first Sunday evening there were four men, six women, and a score of children gathered by special bills, announcing the arrival of the new parson. A meeting was arranged to talk over the condition of the district. Half a dozen men, visited during the week, promised to meet me in the room. What can be done to brighten up this shop? was our first subject for discussion. "If you will get the paper, I will hang it," said a paper-hanger. "I'm a painter, and will colour the front and windows," said another. "I can carpenter a bit," said a third. On next Sunday the old women did not know the room.

The room was used for Sunday School in the afternoon, and one side being glass, was heated like a greenhouse, so that the children naturally took off their coats. In the evening, with a full congregation, it was suffocating, so that one had to go to the door for breath before beginning the service. What was to be done? Another meeting of the men who came to the services was arranged. It was decided to ask the Head Master of Clifton College to come down and learn the needs of the congregation, in order to represent them to the Bristol Church Extension Commissioners. In the meantime the district was to be canvassed to learn the feelings of the people. A petition was drawn up, and the men present offered to begin work the next night, visiting every house.

At the third meeting there was a presentation to the Head Master of a petition forty feet long, signed by twelve hundred adults in the district. Mr. Wilson promised to bring the claims of the district before the Commissioners, and also at once to take steps to build a mission-room, which could be used as a temporary church. For this purpose he promised £250 as his first donation, and also to preach in the churches of Clifton in behalf of the fund, and to "see it through." Mr. Fuller undertook to raise what he could in St. Barnabas, and Mr. Harvey in the district itself and from the congregation.

Mr. Wilson collected the required sum, and on January 28th, 1882, the foundation-stone of St. Agnes' Mission-Room was laid by Miss Wilson. The name of St. Agnes was chosen by the people themselves for their new district, partly because St. Agnes' Day in our calendar falls so close to January 28th, partly, as one of them expressed it, they should like a name new to Bristol, and a "lady saint."

The rooms, which now became the centre of the work, were opened on May 10th, 1882. In February of the following year the Workmen's Club was added to the other buildings. The total cost of the Mission-Rooms was £1,948 7s. od.; of the Workmen's Club £460.

During this year our conventional district was constituted as a separate ecclesiastical district; the Bristol Church Extension Commission endowed it with £3,000, for which the Ecclesiastical Commissioners granted a stipend to the Incumbent in perpetuity of £150 per annum.

After the Christmas holidays of 1883, the members of the School, in response to a request from the Head Master, subscribed £360 for a new room, to be called the "games-room." This room is 40 feet by 20 feet, and is used for refreshments, and for billiards and other games. On its chimney-piece is the following inscription:—

was given by the Boys of Clifton College, for the use of
The St. Agnes' Workmen's Club.
June, 1884.

In 1884 Mr. Wilson bought two houses in Thomas Street, and gave them to the Incumbent of St. Agnes, the rents to serve as a partial endowment for the mission-room. The Church Extension Commission decided that a church for five hundred persons ought to be built at once, as the mission-room was now inadequate, and made a grant of £485 for the site, and £2,500 towards the building. A building committee was formed to raise the supplementary funds. Mr. W. Wood Bethell was chosen as architect.

During this year Mr. Rashleigh, the present Vicar, an Old Cliftonian, worked in the district while reading for ordination. His work was very much valued.

On June 22nd, 1885, the day of the Guthrie Commemoration, the memorial stone of St. Agnes' Church was laid by the Bishop of Ripon (Dr. Boyd Carpenter), who had preached the Commemoration Sermon.

Early in the same year Mr. Wilson persuaded the Town Council to purchase the remaining portion of the old Newfoundland Gardens, with the last of the squatters' huts, on condition that he laid them out as a public park. This was done, and the gardener's lodge was built in the spring and summer of 1885.

On March 2nd, 1886, the Church of St. Agnes was consecrated by the Lord Bishop of the Diocese. It is a noble church, of fine proportions and design, and excellent in its materials and workmanship. A few special gifts made by members of the College may be recorded. The brass lectern bears the initials of H. J. W., H. C. W., and F. M. B.; the gas standards in the chancel were the gift of Mr. Tait; the pulpit was given by Mr. Wilson; and the greatest gift of all, the organ, was provided chiefly out of the Chapel offertory. It bears the inscription—

For the praise of God and the joy of His people, this Organ was built by George Johnson,
And was given to the Church of St. Agnes by the Masters and Boys of Clifton College, in July, 1886.

The first Sunday in the new church was a memorable one. In the morning the preacher was Dr. Warre, the Head Master of Eton. In the afternoon the whole of the College—masters and boys—occupied the church, Dr. Percival being the preacher. In the evening Mr. Wilson preached. This was the first church built in connection with a Public School Mission, and the interest felt in it by the confraternity of Public Schools was shown by the fact that on successive Sundays in Lent the preachers were the Head Masters of Uppingham, Haileybury, Marlborough, and Harrow.

This year also witnessed the establishment of a temporary gymnasium in the large mission-room on two evenings in the week.

In March, 1887, the Mission Committee purchased a house to be used as an additional mission-room in the poorest quarter of the parish. It had been hired and used for two years by a number of working men connected with the church, as a means of getting hold of a class that was not directly accessible to the influence either of the church or of the club.

On April 15th the contract was signed for the completion of the church tower. The day named for its completion was September 30th, precisely twenty-five years from the day on which Clifton College was opened.

Three years later a parish-room was added to the mission buildings at St. Agnes. The cost was defrayed by subscription, and the furniture was given by the Head Master and Mrs. Wilson. In July of the same year, 1890, an entertainment was given by the School "to commemorate the successful close of our work in the parish of St. Agnes, and to take leave of our friends there." About 250 St. Agnes parishioners were present, the evening being closed at 10 o'clock by a supper.

The School, although it had now given up its responsibility in connection with the church, maintained an interest in the parish by turning its attention to the wants of the boys in the neighbourhood. During the summer holidays of 1890 some boys from the parish of St. Agnes and the adjoining one of St. Clement's spent a week under canvas at Berrow, near Burnham, under the leadership of Mr. C. P. Wilson and the Head of the School, H. B. Mayor. Since that time the summer camps have become a regular institution, and are taken charge of by a master and various members of the Sixth. Shortly after the return of these boys from camp, the Rev. A. S. Rashleigh (O.C.) came to Bristol to take up work as Curate at St. Agnes, and to him was entrusted the task of starting a Boys' Club. As there was no building available, negotiations were opened with the trustees of Mount Tabor Chapel in Newfoundland Road, and their schoolroom was kindly placed at the disposal of St. Agnes for use as a Boys' Club on certain nights in the week. Those boys who had attended the August camp formed the nucleus of the club.

In those days the requirements of the club were very simple. A bagatelle board and draughts seemed to provide all the recreation that was needed for the ordinary club night, whilst provision was made for gymnastics in the mission-room once or twice a week in the winter, and for attendance at the public swimming bath in the summer. Cricket and football were also started. At the end of two years the trustees were unable any longer to allow the schoolroom to be used by the club, so a new home had to be sought for the boys. This was found in a rough shed lying at the back of a street close at hand, which was fitted up as a club, and formed a temporary habitation for a year.

But from the first it had been felt that a permanent building must be provided, and land had been secured for the purpose adjoining the church and Men's Club. So in the spring of 1892 a Building Committee was formed, with the Rev. M. G. Glazebrook as chairman, to raise funds to build a Boys' Club and Gymnasium. A sum of nearly £1,000 was promised by the masters and boys of the School (past and present) and a few friends, and then an appeal was made to the public for further help. As a result a total sum of nearly £2,800 was provided, and a fine building consisting of a Gymnasium and clubrooms for senior and junior boys was erected. When the work was well advanced, a memorial stone was laid by Canon J. M. Wilson on June 22nd, 1893, and at the end of September in the same year the buildings were completed and opened for use as the St. Agnes Boys' Club.

Since those early days of the Boys' Club the connection with the School has been continually kept up. Teams from the clubs come up to play the School at cricket and football; the afternoon's amusement generally finishing with a tea in the Gymnasium, and from time to time a concert in Big School. In the winter terms certain members of the School go down on occasional Saturday evenings and take part in whatever is going on at the clubs. Masters, too, have shewn an active interest in this part of the life of the parish; amongst others the Rev. H. Pentecost, who subsequently became curate at St. Agnes, Mr. A. H. Peppin, who looked after the Boys' Brigade, and Mr. G. W. Palmer; whilst other members of the staff visit the clubs from time to time to give lectures.

In 1908 Mr. David appointed Mr. L. G. Pilkington to act as Warden of the Clubs, and also to do a certain amount of work at the College, hoping that this would quicken the interest taken by the School in the work. The experiment proved a great success, but at the present moment, owing to Mr. Pilkington's appointment to a larger sphere of work in 1910, it has fallen—let us hope for a time only—into abeyance.

Mr. Rashleigh, writing of the clubs, says:—

As we look back over the twenty-one years that have passed since the starting of the Boys' Club, we want to know what its influence has been. For the boys of Bristol it has meant much. Hundreds have found within its walls the help and discipline of life that they needed. The contact with the life of a Public School has been an education to them; they have learnt something of the public spirit, the esprit de corps so essential to a true life. The still closer intercourse of life in camp has been the means of creating friendships which have not been forgotten. For the boys of the School, too, the work has been the means of interesting them in quite another side of life. They have learnt something of the working boys in our city, and have felt that they can help them and can also be helped by them. The early interest taken in the School Mission has led in some cases to the taking up of Boys' Clubs in other cities by O.C.'s, whose first enthusiasm was created in the camps at Berrow, Broekweir, Woolaston, Porlock, or Southerndown.

Before we close this chapter on St. Agnes, mention must be made of the work of the ladies of the College amongst the girls. Their club was of later growth than the boys', but has a no less vigorous life.

It was founded by Mrs. Harvey, and at first met weekly in the mission-room. When the Rev. R. S. Fyffe became Vicar he presented two houses adjoining the mission-room for the use of the Girls' Club, which was then opened every night, and various classes were started. Mrs. Glazebrook took a great interest in the club, and raised funds among the ladies of the College for the support of the work. Mrs. R. T. Carter and others gave personal service by visiting the club and taking classes in embroidery and other subjects. Mrs.

R. T. Carter also started a Summer Holiday Camp for the girls, which has proved very beneficial. Two camps are now held every summer, one for senior girls by Mrs. Carter, and one for juniors by Mrs. Rashleigh. In 1908 a large and beautifully-fitted Club House, the gift of two old friends of St. Agnes, was built on the site of the old club. The dedication stone was laid by Mrs. Harvey in October of that year, and the club formally opened early in 1909.

CHAPTER XVII.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN WAR MEMORIAL.

THE war began in October, 1899, and continued till June, 1902. In the first expeditionary force there were about seventy Old Cliftonians, but after the disasters of December, 1899, the numbers were largely increased.

Mr. Pearson, with an "ingenuity of affection," like that of which he gave proof on the eve of the Battle of Omdurman, at frequent intervals issued lists of Old Cliftonians in Africa, and all were thus enabled to follow with lively interest the fortunes of their schoolfellows who were serving their country.

From the outset of the war a heavy toll was taken of the lives of Cliftonians. One of the first to fall was one who was well within the recollection of most of the School; there were others of all generations, some going back to the very earliest years of the School. The total number of Old Cliftonians known to be serving, not including those who left in the Junior School and the Preparatory, was 347. The lists issued were probably correct so far as the names of officers in the Regular Army were concerned, but it was, of course, impossible to find out all who served in the Volunteer, Yeomanry, and Colonial Forces. Many were traced coming from all parts of England, from India, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, and from South Africa itself; but the above total is necessarily below the number of Cliftonians who actually served their country. In all forty-three fell in the war.

Even before the full extent of our losses was known, it was felt that the memory of those we had lost should be perpetuated in some way, and in May, 1901, a meeting was held in London, presided over by the Bishop of Hereford, at which a resolution was passed: "That this meeting approves the proposal to raise a memorial to those Cliftonians who have fallen in the war," and a committee was formed to consider the shape that the memorial should take. Rowland Whitehead acted as

Hon. Sec. of the committee throughout, and to his efforts much of the credit is due for successfully carrying out the scheme.

Ten distinct proposals were submitted to the committee, out of which they selected three. The next step was to issue a circular asking Old Cliftonians in all parts of the world to express their opinion upon the relative merits of the three following schemes :—

- (1) A separate architectural monument on the Terrace overlooking the Close.
- (2) A gate-house or gateway at the entrance in College Road.
- (3) A monumental loggia or antechapel along the west front of the Chapel.

By the end of the year the result of the vote was known, showing a substantial majority in favour of a separate monument, and the Committee decided to invite all Old Cliftonian architects to send in competitive designs for a separate memorial on the Terrace, and they secured the help of Mr. R. Selden Wornum, F.R.I.B.A., as assessor and adviser. In due course Mr. Wornum recommended that the first premium should be awarded to Messrs. W. S. Paul and R. C. James. At another meeting held in London it was decided that the design selected by Mr. Wornum should be carried out. The Committee next approached the well-known sculptor, Mr. Alfred Drury, A.R.A., and he submitted to them two sketch models, one being of St. George, the other of a modern Soldier in Khaki, and at a further meeting of subscribers the choice finally fell on the statue of St. George.

The design of the architects included the erection of a new stone balustrade from the Chapel to the end of Big School, and the substitution of a semi-circular flight of steps for the old double flight leading from the Close.

The memorial stands twenty feet high, the bronze figure being eight feet in height, and the pedestal of Portland stone twelve feet. On three of its four sides are bronze tablets bearing the names and ranks of the forty-three Old Cliftonians who lost their lives, and on the fourth side, facing the Close, are inscribed the lines of Henry Newbolt :—

Clifton
Remember these Thy Sons who fell fighting far over sea for they in a dark hour remembered well their warfare
learned of thee.

Of the statue Mr. Drury writes: "The armour is of the period of the late fifteenth century; the shield is Gothic, with the cross of St. George on it; the handle of the sword is surmounted by a figure emblematical of Love; the figure of Christ is surmounted by a symbol of the Holy Ghost, intended to represent the descent of the Spirit of God or the Word of God; the hilt takes the form of an anchor, representing the anchor of Hope. In the head of St. George I have tried to express his character of Fortitude and Virtue without effeminacy." And how well Mr. Drury has succeeded those who are familiar with the statue can judge.

The total cost of the memorial was £1,985; the sum raised by subscriptions, etc., was £2,103. The balance was devoted to the foundation of a prize as stated in Chapter XI.

The unveiling of the monument was an impressive ceremony. The date fixed upon was the second day of Commemoration, June 25th, 1904. To the great satisfaction of everyone General Lord Methuen kindly undertook the duty. On his arrival he was received with a general salute by a guard of honour composed of picked members of the Cadet Corps, while the rest of the Corps lined a large enclosure in the Close facing the memorial. Another enclosure on the Terrace was filled with a large number of Old Cliftonians in uniform. There was a large muster of members of the Council, headed by the Bishop of Hereford, and all round the enclosures was a great gathering of other Old Cliftonians, parents and friends of the School. The Bishop of Bristol read three Collects, two hymns were sung, and then the Bishop of Hereford, as Chairman of the Memorial Committee, handed over the memorial to the keeping of the Council, and invited Lord Methuen to perform the ceremony of unveiling it.

General Lord Methuen then delivered an address, and after alluding to friends of his, Colonel Haig and Colonel Birdwood, who as Cliftonians might have claimed it as their birthright to stand in his place that day, he spoke of the urgent and all-important task of inculcating feelings of patriotism into the boys of Public Schools, to whom England looked for an example of what the youth, and later the manhood, of England should be. He ended with the words, "May this memorial be an encouragement to patriotism, not only to Cliftonians who hear me, but to those who are to come."

The memorial was then unveiled, and the General and Cadets saluted, while the buglers played "The Last Post."

The Head Master then expressed the gratitude of Cliftonians to Lord Methuen for his presence and his moving words, and the ceremony was brought to a close by those present singing a verse of the National Anthem.

An admirable enlarged photograph of the unveiling ceremony has been presented to the School by Mr. Moberly, and hangs in the Council Room.

It may here be recorded that of the whole number serving in the war, 105 were mentioned in despatches, one gained the Victoria Cross, 3 were appointed C.B., 4 C.M.G., 26 gained the D.S.O., 28 received brevet rank.

This chapter shall conclude with a list of the names which are inscribed on the memorial. They shall be given with more detail than is to be found either in Chapel or on the monument itself, where only names and rank appear.

"Act of courage for which recommended: On the 26th Dec., 1899, during a fight at Game Tree, near Mafeking, when the order to retire had been given, Sergt. Martineau stopped and picked up Corp. Le Camp, who had been struck down about ten yards from the Boer trenches, and half dragged, half carried him, towards a bush about 150 yards from the trenches. In doing this Sergt. Martineau was wounded in the side but paid no attention to it, and proceeded to staunch and bandage the wounds of his comrade, whom he afterwards assisted to retire. The firing while they were retiring was very heavy, and Sergt. Martineau was again wounded. When shot the second time he was absolutely exhausted from supporting his comrade, and sank down unable to proceed farther. He received three wounds, one of which necessitated the amputation of his arm near the shoulder." Served as Capt. in Natal Native Rebellion, 1906. HUGH S. WILSON.

Reprinted from the "Worcester Herald,"

Sept. 25, 1915.

We understand that the action in which Sec.-Lieut. Hugh S. Wilson was killed was an affair of patrols. Lieutenant Wilson was with the English patrol when they met a patrol of Germans. An encounter took place in which the Germans were worsted, but unfortunately the son of Canon Wilson was killed.

On Sunday last, the Dean, preaching at the Cathedral in the morning on the well-known words from the Burial Service—"The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord," spoke of the difficulty for those who were in grief at the loss of those dear to them, repeating those words of Job with sincerity. This difficulty had been borne in upon the members of the Cathedral body by the news of the death of Lieut. H. S. Wilson, that bright, vigorous personality who came among them from time to time, and who from a strong sense of duty at the very outset of the war enlisted as a private, and who, when later he received a commission, won by his geniality and capacity the respect, nay, the adoration of every man in his company.

..... "We are proud of those for whom we mourn," said the Dean, "because they have, of their own free-will, responded to their country's call, and knowing well the risks that they were running enrolled themselves in England's Army to save Europe from oppression, to preserve English ideals of life, and to protect England's homes.

"You are proud of your brave son, brother, or lover. You would not have had him do other than he did. 'Are you going to toll the bell?' asked someone when the sad news came. 'Toll the bell!' was the reply. 'No. If I ring it at all it will be a peal.' If there are tears in your eyes let the pride in your hearts help you to conquer the tears."

The Rev. Dr. David, Head Master of Rugby, writes as follows in reply to an inquiry on our part:

"You ask me to tell you something of what we are feeling here about Hugh Wilson. My first acquaintance with him was by correspondence. He was studying in France with a view to a Mastership in an English Public School.

I was then Head Master of Clifton, and as an old Cliftonian he wrote from time to time, telling me of his life at a Lycée, his impressions of French Schools, his ambition to work one day among English boys. The letters delighted me, they were frank, thoughtful, modest, with just the right admixture of seriousness and humour. Before he was ready for an appointment I left Clifton for Rugby, where I offered him the first possible vacancy.

"We all recognised at once that our new colleague was no ordinary man. He brought with him a spring of new life. Faithful to the old traditions and knowing well their value, he yet foresaw all manner of new possibilities growing out of them. His suggestions were so modestly and gently put that he never seemed to be pushing personal views against other people. But he was full of ideas. Often I have said during the past year, and heard it said as the last comment on some cherished project—'We must wait till Wilson comes back.'

"He loved pictures, poetry, music, boys, and all things wholesome. He had all the enthusiasm of youth, without the aggressiveness that makes personal antagonisms. Everybody loved and trusted him. But he could fight. Of weak men and boys and causes he was the most generous of champions. He hated war, but he was the first of my colleagues to offer himself. And he is the first master we have given in the great sacrifice. We shall never forget what it has cost us.

"A Rugby Master writes: 'When he came among us the first impression was perhaps a little startling to one of an older generation. Intensely alive, eager, and impetuous, always ready to tilt at an obsolete convention, or break a lance for a new cause, he was a keen fighter who gave and took hard blows. But there was nothing personal or petty in his warfare. To him the cause was everything. The old loyalties were written large on his banner, and his unflinching sense of humour saved him from the pitfalls which beset the path of the young reformer. And soon the charm and nobility of his character had won him an enduring place in the affection of Masters and boys. He repaid it with a loyalty and a devoted service which was rich in fruits both to himself and to us. What he wrote of a friend a few days before he was killed, is equally true of himself. "How he loved life! and he never wasted a minute of it. And now he has eternity on his hands, and new friends to make." "

Rugby, 23 Sept., 1915.

A. A. DAVID.

Canon Wilson has received several letters from the regiment, all of which show the esteem and affection in which his son was held.

"He is an absolutely irreparable loss to the regiment," writes one of his superior officers. "He was Signalling Officer, as you know. When he took this up a few months ago, he knew nothing whatever about it, but he worked at it with untiring energy and enthusiasm, and has brought our signalling arrangements to a very high state of perfection. His men were devoted to him, as they were bound to be to one with so much sympathy and kindness of heart. It is heart-rending to think that one so many-sided, and with such gifts and abilities, has gone from us. I suppose he was less in sympathy with military ideas than anyone in the regiment, and yet no one took up his new career with such loyalty and whole-heartedness."

Another officer writes: "He used to arrange our billeting for us, and all the machinery by which our messes were supplied with extra comforts. In fact, if one wanted anything or got into any difficulty, one always turned to him, and never in vain. I cannot think how we shall do without him. He was always delightful, interesting, stimulating, cheering. He never said an unkind word of anyone; it is impossible to think of his doing or saying anything impure or ungenerous."

A Sergeant in the Regiment says of him: "I simply loved that man; in fact, he was the only man I ever worshipped. Should you see Canon Wilson I should like you to tell him how we all in the section loved and admired his son."

"Probably better than anyone else I can testify to his coolness and bravery under great danger," is a sentence from another letter.

14, COLLEGE,

WORCESTER.

Sept. 28/15

Dear Aunt,

A sorrow like this I am being friends very near together, & your letter has brought you very close. We have a common sorrow, & a common joy. Those words, which Hugh quotes from Shelley, in writing to me on the death of one of his dearest friends, ere for us both.

And there is a lovely little poem by R. L. Stevenson,

Get, O stricken heart, remember, I never knew of human days he lived the better part
April came to bloom, & never in December
Brought to killing chills upon the head, or heart.

Let comfort me

We have received so many letters that to reply to each separately would scarcely be possible ; yet the letters, all full of such kind thought and many of them showing how keenly our grief is shared, increase our desire to speak the gratitude we feel. Each letter has added something to our knowledge of the wealth of sympathy and goodwill that shines so brightly in these dark days.

As our friends have shared our sorrow, we too would wish to share with them the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted.

Happy as he had been at Clifton College and at Cambridge, the last years at Rugby were the happiest Hugh had known ; but he did not grudge the sacrifice he offered, and we desire to be one with him in this. We have been so glad to know from the letters of his brother officers and the men of the regiment that the affection and friendship which had enriched all other chapters of his life had been his to the full in this new phase.

“ From the contagion of the world’s slow stain
He is secure,”

These were the words he quoted when he heard a short time ago of the death in action of one of the dearest of the many friends he loved so well ; adding “ it makes all those prayers for the dead and thanksgivings for their lives very real.”

Our thanksgiving is for nearly 30 years of his life on earth, and for that life nobly laid down on the French soil he loved as his own. He met his death heading a patrol on the night of Sept. 14-15. His wounds were such as to cause almost instant death. He was laid to rest on the afternoon of Sept. 15, 1915, in the orchard ground which has been set apart as a military cemetery for the English.

over to you
Paul Wilson
